SECTION III – RISK FACTORS

An investment in Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider all the information in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below before making an investment in the Equity Shares.

We have described the risks and uncertainties that we believe are material, but these risks and uncertainties may not be the only risks relevant to us, the Equity Shares, or the industry in which we currently operate or propose to operate. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factor below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial or other implication of any of the risks mentioned in this section. If any or a combination of the following risks actually occur, or if any of the risks that are currently not known or deemed to be not relevant or material now actually occur or become material in the future, our business, cash flows, prospects, financial condition and results of operations could suffer, the trading price of the Equity Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment.

To obtain a more detailed understanding of our business and operations, see this section in conjunction with the sections titled “Our Industry”, “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations”, respectively, as well as other financial and statistical information contained in this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Unless otherwise indicated or unless the context requires otherwise, our financial information used in this section are derived from our Restated Financial Statements. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of our business and the terms of the Issue, including the merits and risks involved. Prospective investors should consult their tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences to them of an investment in our Equity Shares.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including but not limited to the considerations described below. For details, refer to the chapter “Forward-Looking Statements” page no 16.

Materiality

The Risk factors have been determined on the basis of their materiality, which has been decided on the basis of following factors:

- Some events may not be material individually but may be material when considered collectively.
- Some events may have an impact which is qualitative though not quantitative.
- Some events may not be material at present but may have a material impact in the future.

Classification of Risk Factors

Internal Risk Factors

- 1. Our Company has a high geographical concentration in Punjab, exposing us to region-specific economic, environmental, and operational risks.

Our Company derives the majority of its revenue from the state of Punjab, contributing more than 90% of total revenue over the past three fiscal years. This significant geographical concentration exposes us to risks arising from regional economic conditions, regulatory developments, political events, natural calamities, and other localised disruptions. Any adverse developments in Punjab may materially affect our business, financial condition and operational performance.

Since most of our operations, customers, and supply chain partners are located in Punjab, events such as infrastructure breakdowns, disruptions in transportation or utility services, labour unrest, changes in local government policies, or significant natural or man-made disasters may adversely affect our operations. For instance, while the specific area where our facilities are located has not been significantly impacted, certain parts of Punjab experienced severe floods in July 2025 and September 2025, which illustrate the type of risks that may affect supply chains, logistics, raw material availability, and production schedules.

Further, our facilities or those of our suppliers may experience fire incidents, operational disruptions, or restricted access due to unforeseen events. We may not be able to mitigate these risks in a timely manner, or at all, which could adversely impact our ability to distribute products or meet customer demand.

While we have not experienced any material disruptions in the past, we cannot assure you that such events will not occur in the future. Any significant disturbance in the region may lead to a substantial decline in revenues and profitability, and adversely affect our business, cash flows, financial condition, and results of operations.

The table below reflects the Company's revenue from different geographical segments over the past three fiscal years:

(In lakhs)

Particulars	June 30, 2025		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024		Fiscal 2023
	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %
Punjab	6,453.57	98.95%	16,140.48	94.04%	10,117.28	93.35%	8160.86	91.36%
Others	68.88	1.05%	1,023.02	5.96%	721.18	6.65%	771.84	8.64%

2. Major portion of our revenue depends upon our few customers. The loss of any one or more of our major customers would have a material adverse effect on our business operations and profitability.

We derive a major portion of our revenue from a few customers and the details of contribution of our top 1,3,5 and 10 customers to our total revenue from operations for the stub period ended on June 30, 2025 and for the periods ended March 31, 2025, March 31,2024, and March 31,2023, have been set out below:

(In Lakhs)

Particulars	June 30, 2025		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024		Fiscal 2023
	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %
Top 1 Customer	788.25	12.09%	833.41	4.86%	1,174.36	10.84%	642.93	7.20%
Top 3 Customers	2,250.65	34.51%	2,422.59	14.11%	2,646.69	24.42%	1,761.75	19.72%
Top 5 Customers	2,769.53	42.46%	3,689.06	21.49%	3,296.28	30.41%	2,719.79	30.45%
Top 10 Customers	3,473.22	53.25%	5,861.53	34.15%	4,492.75	41.45%	4,332.58	48.50%

The above table highlights that a significant portion of our revenue is concentrated among a few customers, with the top 10 customers together contributing 53.25% of total revenue in June 30, 2025, 34.15% in Fiscal 2025, 41.45% in Fiscal 2024, and 48.50% in Fiscal 2023. This customer concentration underscores the importance of maintaining strong relationships with our key clients. Any loss or reduction in business from these customers, or changes in their purchasing patterns, could materially impact our revenue, profitability, and overall financial performance.

3. We have experienced negative cash flows in the past. Any such negative cash flows in the future could affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

Our Company has reported certain negative cash flows from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities in the previous years as per the Restated Financial Statements and the same are summarized as under:

(In Lakhs)

Particulars	June 30, 2025	March 31 2025	March 31 2024	March 31 2023
Net Cash from Operating Activities	-265.38	-177.11	-597.05	-4.78
Net Cash from Investing Activities	-1.32	-438.42	-1,340.92	-132.20
Net Cash used in Financing Activities	258.73	606.00	1,949.68	129.41

Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If our Company is not able to generate sufficient cash flows, it may affect our business and financial operations. For further please refer chapter titled “Restated Financial Information” beginning on Page 190 of this Updated Red Herring Prospectus.

4. A substantial portion of our raw materials is sourced from a limited number of suppliers. Any disruption in supply, increase in prices, or inability of these suppliers to meet quality or delivery requirements could materially and adversely affect our operations, production schedules, and profitability.

The Company sources a significant portion of its raw materials and products from a limited number of suppliers. For the three months ended June 30, 2025, the top 3 suppliers accounted for 30.43% of total procurement, the top 5 suppliers for 41.35%, and the top 10 suppliers for 57.65%. In Fiscal 2025, the top 3 suppliers contributed 34.70% of total procurement, the top 5 suppliers 42.79%, and the top 10 suppliers 55.13%. In comparison, during Fiscal 2024, the top 3 suppliers accounted for 27.46% and the top 10 suppliers for 52.21%, while in Fiscal 2023, the top 3 suppliers contributed 29.70% and the top 10 suppliers 64.13%.

This concentration exposes the Company to risks associated with the loss, disruption, or change in terms of key suppliers. Any interruption in the supply chain, increase in prices, or failure of these suppliers to meet quality and delivery standards could materially affect the Company’s operations, production schedules, cost structure, and profitability. The Company’s ability to diversify its supplier base and maintain strong relationships with key suppliers is critical to mitigating such risks.

(In Lakhs)

Particulars	June 30, 2025		Fiscal 2025		Fiscal 2024		Fiscal 2023
	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %	Amount	In %
Top 3 Supplier	1,510.96	33.53%	4,662.27	34.70%	2,049.85	27.46%	4,785.30	29.70%
Top 5 Supplier	2,018.79	44.80%	5,748.91	42.79%	2,664.34	35.69%	3,185.33	42.60%
Top 10 Supplier	2,764.65	61.35%	7,286.64	54.23%	3,862.71	51.74%	4,785.30	64.00%

5. A significant portion of our raw materials is sourced from Punjab, and any disruption in this region could materially affect our operations, production, and financial performance.

The Company sources a significant portion of its raw materials from the state of Punjab, accounting for 98.90% of total procurement in June 30, 2025, 55.13% in Fiscal 2025, 52.21% in Fiscal 2024, and 64.13% in Fiscal 2023. This high geographical concentration exposes the Company to risks arising from regional economic, political, or environmental developments. Any adverse events in Punjab, such as supply disruptions, natural disasters, regulatory changes, or logistical challenges, could materially impact the Company’s operations, production schedules, and financial performance. The Company’s reliance on a single region for a major portion of its raw material requirements increases its vulnerability to such regional risks.

6. Certain adjustments have been made in the financial statements of the Company by our Auditors.

The Company's Restated Financial Statements contain adjustments made by peer-reviewed auditors. These adjustments, which differ from the initially audited financials. Such revisions could lead to a change in the perception of the Company's financial health and operational efficiency. To gain a comprehensive understanding of these adjustments and their implications, refer to Note 41 of the “Restated Financial Statements” on page 190 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The same has been recognized in the restated financial information in line with the practice followed during the year ended 31st March 2025 and effect till 31st March 2022 has been adjusted directly in reserves and surplus.

7. Our Company's Dependence on Short-Term Rental Agreements for Operational Premises

The Company operates from premises taken on rental agreements with a tenure of 11 months. Such agreements do not provide long-term security of tenure and are subject to renewal at the discretion of the respective landlords. There is no assurance that these agreements will be renewed upon expiry, or that renewal, if any, will be on commercially acceptable terms, including rental rates and other conditions. Non-renewal or termination of these agreements may require the Company to shift its operations, which could result in disruption of business activities, increased relocation and setup costs, operational delays, and temporary loss of productivity. Further, the short tenure of these agreements may restrict the Company's ability to undertake long-term operational planning or make significant investments in fixed assets at such locations. Any such disruption or uncertainty may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assurance that such events may not occur in the future.

9. Our business is seasonal in nature.

Our business is significantly influenced by seasonal demand, particularly due to our focus on winter wear garments and fabrics. Sales are typically higher during the winter months and lower during off-season periods. Any unseasonal weather patterns, shifts in consumer preferences, or delays in production and distribution could adversely affect our revenue, inventory management, and overall financial performance.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

10. The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised, are based on our management estimates and any bank or financial institution or any independent agency has not appraised the same. The deployment of funds in the project is entirely at our discretion, based on the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue”.

The fund requirement and deployment plan, as mentioned in the “Objects of the Issue” on page 84 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, is based on the estimates of our management and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution or any other independent agency. These fund requirements are based on our current business plan. We cannot assure that the current business plan will be implemented in its entirety or at all. In view of the highly competitive and dynamic nature of our business, we may have to revise our business plan from time to time and consequently these fund requirements. The deployment of the funds as stated under chapter “Objects of the Issue” is at the discretion of our Board of Directors and is not subject to monitoring by any external independent agency.

Further, we cannot assure that the actual costs or schedule of implementation as stated under chapter “Objects of the Issue” will not vary from the estimated costs or schedule of implementation. Any such variance may be on account of one or more factors, some of which may be beyond our control. Occurrence of any such event may delay our business plans and/or may have an adverse bearing on our expected revenues and earnings.

11. Risk Related to Customer Retention, Dependence on Existing Customers, and Acquisition of New Customers.

The Company’s revenue is derived from a mix of retained and new customers, with retained customers contributing 68.77% of total revenue in June 30, 2025, 77.21% in Fiscal 2025, 73.05% in Fiscal 2024, and 84.08% in Fiscal 2023, while new customers contributed 23%, 26.95%, and 15.92%, respectively. Any failure to retain existing customers or attract new customers could adversely impact the Company’s revenue, profitability, and growth prospects. Additionally, reliance on a limited number of high-value retained customers increases the risk that loss or reduced business from such customers could materially affect financial performance.

12. Volatility in the prices and availability of yarns and other raw materials may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our Company primarily relies on polyester yarn, spun yarn, acrylic yarn, other man-made yarns, cotton yarn, and polyester-cotton blended yarns for our manufacturing and processing operations. The type and quantity of yarn used vary according to the specific requirements of our customers for the same product. We are entirely dependent on external suppliers for these raw materials, which constitute a substantial portion of our total cost of production.

Fluctuations in the prices of yarns and other raw materials, including due to market volatility, changes in import/export duties, or supply chain disruptions, could increase our cost of production. While we may attempt to pass on price increases to our customers, there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so fully or in a timely manner. Additionally, any shortage, interruption in supply, or reduction in the quality of these raw materials could adversely affect our production schedules, sales, profitability, and overall business operations.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

13. Our lenders have a charge over our movable and immovable properties, stock, book debts, plant and machinery, and fixed deposits in respect of loans/facilities availed by us.

We have availed various working capital and term loan facilities from lenders and secured such borrowings by creating charges on our current assets, including stock-in-trade, raw materials, goods in process, finished goods, book debts, movable plant and machinery, fixed deposits, as well as equitable mortgage over our immovable properties situated at Village Seera, Village Meharban, and Basti Jodhewal in Ludhiana, Punjab. Additionally, we have availed a vehicle loan secured by hypothecation of a Maruti Ciaz car.

In the event we default in repayment of the aforesaid borrowings, together with any interest, costs, charges, or other monies payable to the bank, our lenders may enforce their rights under the financing documents and take possession of, and dispose of, the secured properties and assets. This could materially and adversely affect our operations and financial condition. For further details on our secured borrowings and financial indebtedness, please refer to the chapter titled “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 230 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

14. Potential conflicts of interest with our Group Company may affect our business.

Our Group Company, Star Cottex Limited, is engaged in the manufacturing and trading of certain products similar to those offered by our Company. This may give rise to potential conflicts of interest in allocating business opportunities or in situations where our respective interests diverge, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

The businesses of both companies have evolved independently, based on market opportunities, promoter initiatives, and their specific focus areas. While there is some similarity in the line of business, each company operates with distinct strategies, target markets, customer bases, and product segments, reducing the likelihood of significant overlap.

Nonetheless, situations of conflict may arise concerning business opportunities, customers, suppliers, or use of resources, as both companies operate in related sectors. The Company and its group company, Star Cottex Limited, have entered into a non-compete agreement dated September 09, 2025 to minimise any potential overlap in business operations. Further, the Company confirms that it will adopt appropriate measures permitted by law, including adherence to corporate governance requirements, arm’s length dealings, and transparent business practices, to mitigate potential conflicts and safeguard the interests of our shareholders while engaging with Star Cottex Limited.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

For further information on our Group Company, please refer to “Our Group Companies” on page 263 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

15. We have significant working capital requirements, and our inability to meet them may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Our business requires substantial working capital, primarily driven by inventory, and trade receivables. As per the restated financials, our net working capital requirements have increased over the years in line with revenue growth, resulting in higher inventory levels and increased receivables. Any delays or defaults in collection from customers could further elevate our working capital needs.

Meeting these requirements depends on the timely realization of receivables, availability of cash, and access to financing. Inability to manage working capital efficiently may necessitate additional funding, which could be costly and adversely affect our profitability and operational flexibility. Moreover, any shortage of working capital could limit our ability to procure raw materials, produce goods, or fulfill customer orders, thereby materially impacting our business operations.

We currently fund our working capital requirements through a combination of borrowings, and internal accruals. Any constraints in these funding sources, or an increase in working capital needs beyond our projections, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

For further details please refer to chapter “Object of the Issue” and “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on page 84 and 230 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

16. We rely on both in-house logistics and third-party logistics providers, and any disruption or increase in transportation costs may adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our logistics team arranges transportation of products using a combination of in-house vehicles and third-party logistics providers to ensure timely delivery, with tracking shared with customers where applicable. However, we do not have formal long-term arrangements with most third-party providers, which exposes us to fluctuations in transportation costs and availability. If third-party providers receive more favorable terms from our competitors, they may decline to provide services to us or terminate existing arrangements. Additionally, transport strikes, regulatory restrictions, or other disruptions in the logistics network could adversely affect our delivery schedules.

In the event that we are unable to secure alternate logistics arrangements in a timely manner, on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, our ability to deliver products efficiently may be impacted, which could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

For further details please refer to chapter “Our Business” on page 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

17. We require certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permits for our business, and the failure to obtain or renew them in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

Our Company requires certain statutory and regulatory registrations, licenses, permits and approvals for our business. In future, we shall be required to renew such registrations and approvals and obtain new registrations and approvals for any proposed operations, including any expansion of existing operations. While we believe that we will be able to renew or obtain such registrations and approvals, as and when required, there can be no assurance that the relevant authorities will renew or issue any such registrations or approvals in the time frame anticipated by us or at all. Failure to obtain and renew such registrations and approvals with statutory time frame attracts penal provisions. If we are unable to renew, maintain or obtain the required registrations or approvals, it may result in the interruption of our operations and may have a material adverse effect on our revenues, profits and operations and profits. Further, certain statutory licenses and approvals which we have obtained for the purpose of carrying our business, contain terms and conditions/covenants, which are to be adhered to by our Company. In case our Company defaults in complying with the said terms and conditions/ covenants, we may be subjected to penal provisions and it may also lead to the cancellation of such licenses and approvals, which will adversely affect our business, financial conditions and results of operations.

The Company has applied for the following key approvals and licenses that are still pending:

S. No	Nature of Registration/ License	Application No.	Issuing Authority	Date of Application
1	Groundwater Extraction Permission	Not available	Punjab Water Resources Authority (PWRDA)	28.06.2025
2	Hazardous Waste Management Authorization	12009271	Punjab Pollution Control Board (PPCB)	27.09.2025

For further details see Chapter on “Key Regulations and Policies” and “Government and Other Approvals” beginning on page 154 and 258 of the Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus respectively.

18. Our Business is Dependent on Our Manufacturing Facility, and Any Disruption May Adversely Affect Operations

Our business is primarily dependent on our sole manufacturing facility located in Punjab. The loss of, or any prolonged disruption to, operations at this facility could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. For further details please refer to the chapter “Our Business” on page 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

This facility is central to our production process, and any operational issues, including equipment breakdowns, machinery failure, obsolete technology, industrial accidents, or regulatory non-compliance, could negatively impact production levels and efficiency. Additionally, our results of operations are dependent on the successful and uninterrupted functioning of this facility.

In the event of a disruption, there can be no assurance that we would be able to procure products or manufacturing capacity from third parties in a timely manner, which could affect our ability to meet customer orders, reduce profitability, and potentially result in the loss of customers. While we take precautions to minimize operational risks, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may still be adversely affected if any of the above risks materialize.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

19. Our failure to accurately manage our inventory levels could result in an unexpected shortfall and/or surplus of products, which could have a material adverse impact on our manufacturing operations, profitability and cash flows.

We monitor our inventory levels based on customer forecasts and internal demand projections. Typically, we maintain inventory for three to four months to ensure smooth operations. However, we cannot guarantee that actual customer orders will match these forecasts. A shortfall in orders can lead to excess inventory, increasing holding costs, affecting cash flow, and potentially requiring discount sales or write-offs, which may impact margins and customer relationships. Conversely, insufficient inventory due to underestimation of demand can result in lost sales and under-utilization of production capacity. Any of these situations could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

20. We have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to mobilize the required resources or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule.

Our requirements for proposed funds for our expansion as described in the section titled “Objects of the Issue” is to be funded from the proceeds of this IPO. Other than this offering, we have not identified any alternate source of funding and any delay or failure to mobilize the required funding or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule. Further, we cannot provide any assurance that we would be able to execute our plans/strategy within the given timeframe. For details, kindly refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” on page 84.

21. Lack of Long-Term Agreements with Customers May Affect Our Business

We generally do not enter into long-term contracts with our customers. While this approach allows us the flexibility to respond to changing market demand and adjust pricing, it also exposes us to revenue volatility. Although certain customers make regular purchases from us, there can be no assurance that they will continue to do so in the future. If our customers reduce or cease purchases, or if we are unable to sell our products at competitive prices, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may be adversely affected.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

22. We face competition from Organized, Unorganized as well as international players.

Our industry is highly competitive and largely unorganized, with a mix of domestic and international players operating across different segments. We face competition from organized domestic companies with established brands, unorganized local manufacturers, as well as international manufacturers who may benefit from lower production costs and favorable trade or duty structures in their respective countries.

Intense competition in certain markets may result in pricing pressures, reduced market share, and increased marketing and distribution costs. Additionally, competition from lower-cost manufacturers or companies with greater operational efficiencies could adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers, maintain margins, and achieve our business objectives. Any of these factors could have a material adverse effect on our operations, financial condition, and overall business performance.

Please refer to the chapter “Our Business-Competition” on page 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

23. Our business is dependent on the availability of adequate and uninterrupted supply of electrical power and water at reasonable costs.

Our operations require a consistent supply of electricity and water, and any disruption, shortage, or increase in the cost of these essential utilities could restrict our ability to operate at full capacity, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition, and results of operations. Further, our reliance on captive or third-party power supply exposes us to risks such as operational failures, accidents, or price fluctuations, which may impact our profitability. Additionally, we have applied for requisite approvals for the use of groundwater application dated 28.06.2025, and in the event such application is denied or delayed, we may not be able to access or use the required water supply, which could materially and adversely affect our operations. For further details please refer to the chapter “Our Business” and “Government and other approvals” on page 130 and 258 of this Draft Red Hearing Prospectus.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

24. Our Company is involved in certain legal proceedings, and any adverse outcome in such matters could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, and reputation.

Our Company is currently involved in certain legal and regulatory proceedings, both as a plaintiff and as a respondent, which are pending at various stages of adjudication. While the management believes these matters are not likely to have a material adverse impact on the Company, there can be no assurance that decisions in the future will be favorable to us or that no new proceedings will be initiated.

As on date, there are no criminal proceedings pending against our Company. However, certain demands and adjustments raised by statutory authorities are currently under review. Based on the records available on the TRACES portal of the Income Tax Department, TDS defaults aggregating ₹5.23 lakhs have been recorded against our Company for various assessment years, out of which ₹1.07 lakhs has been paid subsequent to the restated period and the balance ₹4.16 lakhs remains disputed. These demands primarily relate to minor TDS defaults and adjustments under Section 143(1)(a) of the Income Tax Act, which are pending resolution. While no litigation has been formally initiated in these cases, any adverse outcome may lead to additional tax liability, interest, or penalties.

Further, our Company has initiated certain criminal and commercial recovery proceedings against third parties to recover outstanding dues and enforce payments. These include proceedings under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881. Additionally, our Company has filed a claim for recovery under Section 18 of the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006, which is currently pending before the MSME Samadhan Authority.

Further, there is no outstanding litigation involving our Company, Directors and Promoters which is so major that our Company's survival is dependent on the outcome of such pending litigation.

For further details, please refer to chapter titled "Outstanding Litigations & Material Developments" on page 251 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

While our management believes it has valid claims and adequate defenses in these cases, the outcome of such proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty. Any unfavorable ruling, delay in recovery of dues, or imposition of additional liabilities may adversely affect our cash flows, profitability, and reputation. Further, defending or pursuing these matters involves costs, management time, and diversion of resources, which could impact our operations.

25. Strikes, Work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of disputes with our employees could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our Company is exposed to strikes and other industrial actions. As on the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, our Company has 174 full-time employees including KMP and Directors. For further details please refer to chapter "Our Business" on page 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus. At present, we enjoy a good relationship with our employees. However, there can be no assurance that we may not experience disruptions in our operations due to disputes or other problems with our work force such as strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands that may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

26. Changes in Technology may render our current technologies obsolete or require us to make substantial capital investments.

Modernisation and technology Upgradation is essential in our industry to reduce costs and increase productivity. With latest technology and advancement of methods and machineries, our existing technology and machineries may become obsolete or may not be upgraded timely, hampering our operations and financial conditions and we may lose our competitive edge. Although we strive to keep our technology, plant and machinery in line with the latest technological standards, we may be required to implement new technology or upgrade the machineries and other equipment's employed by us. Further, the costs in upgrading our technology and modernizing the plant and machineries are significant which could substantially affect our finances and operations. For further Details please refer to chapter "Our Business-Capacity Utilisation" on page no 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

27. Our inability to identify, understand or cater to evolving industry trends, changing customer tastes and preferences may adversely affect our business

The fashion-oriented nature of the textile industry exposes us to risks and uncertainties associated with rapidly changing consumer preferences, technological advancements, and evolving market trends. Our ability to anticipate such changes and introduce new and enhanced products in a timely manner is critical to remaining competitive. Any delay in product development, lack of market acceptance, or obsolescence of certain products could adversely impact our growth and profitability. In addition, frequent changes in customer demand may require our manufacturing facilities to be flexible and responsive, and failure to accurately forecast or meet such demand could affect our business and financial performance.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

28. If we are unable to manage our growth effectively or if our estimates or assumptions used in developing our strategic plan are inaccurate or we are unable to execute our strategic plan effectively, our business and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

Our revenue and business operations have grown in recent years, and while we plan to continue expanding our scale of operations, there can be no assurance that we will be able to sustain such growth rates in the future. Our ability to grow depends on several factors, including our execution capabilities, our ability to retain existing suppliers and enter into new supplier agreements, maintain customer satisfaction, mobilize adequate working capital, manage operating costs, and respond to competition in both organized and unorganized segments. Additionally, macroeconomic factors beyond our control, such as a slowdown in global economic conditions, may adversely affect our growth.

Our development and expansion strategies require substantial managerial efforts and skills, along with the incurrence of additional expenditures, which may expose us to new or increased risks. We may not be able to efficiently implement our growth strategies or manage the expansion of our operations, and any failure in this regard could limit future growth and adversely affect our business. Further, our plan to improve our debt-to-equity ratio may not materialize as intended, and we may be required to incur additional debt to meet immediate capital requirements, potentially resulting in unfavorable financial ratios. The funds required for our growth and their deployment are based on management estimates and assumptions considering the current market scenario and are subject to revision due to changes in external circumstances or costs. If we are unable to execute our strategic plans successfully, or if the assumptions underlying these plans prove materially inaccurate, our business, results of operations, and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

29. Our success depends largely upon the services of our Directors, Promoter and other Key Managerial Personnel and our ability to attract and retain them.

Our success is substantially dependent on the expertise and services of our Directors, Promoter and our Key Managerial Personnel. They provide expertise, which enables us to make well informed decisions in relation to our business and our future prospects. For further details of our Directors and key managerial personnel, please refer to the chapter “Our Management” on page 167 of this Red Herring Prospectus. The loss of such key members of our management team and the failure of any succession plans to replace such key members could seriously impair the ability to continue to manage and expand the business efficiently.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

30. Our Promoter and certain of our Directors hold Equity Shares in our Company and are therefore interested in our performance in addition to their remuneration and reimbursement of expenses.

Certain of our Directors including our Promoter are interested in our Company, in addition to regular remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, to the extent of their shareholding in our Company. We cannot assure you that our Promoter will exercise their rights as shareholders to the benefit and best interest of our Company. Our Promoter will continue to exercise significant control over us, including being able to control the composition of our Board of Directors and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting of shareholders, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. Our Promoter may take actions with respect to our business which may conflict with the best interests of our Company or that of minority shareholders. For details on the interest of our Promoter and Directors of our Company, other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits, see the sections titled “Related Party Transactions” on page 190 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

31. Our Directors have extended personal guarantees in connection with some of our debt facilities. There can be no assurance that such personal guarantees will be continued to be provided by our Promoter in future or can be called at any time, affecting the financial arrangements.

Our Directors have provided personal guarantees for our borrowings to secure our loans. If any of these guarantees are revoked, our lenders may require alternative guarantees or collateral or cancellation of such facilities, entailing repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities. If we are unable to procure alternative guarantees satisfactory to our lenders, we may need to seek alternative sources of capital, which may not be available to us at commercially reasonable terms or at all, or to agree to more onerous terms under our financing agreements, which may limit our operational flexibility. Accordingly, our business, the financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects may be adversely affected by the revocation of all or any of the personal guarantees provided by our Promoter in connection with our Company's borrowings. For further details please refer to the chapter "Statement of Financial Indebtedness" on page 230 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

32. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoter may be lower than the issue price.

Our Promoter's average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares in our Company may be lower than the Issue Price of the shares proposed to be offered though this Red Herring Prospectus. For further details regarding average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoter in our Company, please refer to "Capital Structure" on page 67 of this Red Herring Prospectus.

33. Our Company has availed unsecured loan from parties other than bankers & financial institutions which is repayable on demand. Any demand from the lender for repayment of such unsecured loan may affect our cash flow and financial condition.

Our Company has availed certain unsecured loan and are repayable on demand. Though our Company intends to repay the loan amount in near future, sudden recall may disrupt our operations and also may force us to opt for funding at higher interest rates, resulting in higher financial burden. Further, we will not be able to raise funds at short notice and thus result in shortage of working capital fund. For further details, please refer to the "Restated Financial Information" and "Statement of Financial Indebtedness" beginning on page no. 190 and 230 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Any demand for the repayment of such unsecured loan, may adversely affect our cash flow and financial condition.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

34. We are highly dependent on our Promoters and our management team, and key managerial personnel and the loss of any key team member may adversely affect our business performance.

Our Promoters, management team, and key managerial personnel have been instrumental in the growth and development of our Company. For further details please refer to the chapter "Our Management" on page 167 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus". We benefit from our Promoters, and any decline in our relationship with him could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and future prospects.

Further, our businesses are dependent upon an experienced senior management team and we believe that the experience and skill of our management team and our investors allows us to possess a significant advantage over our global competitors. If one or more members of our management team, senior management personnel and key managerial personnel were unable or unwilling to continue in their present positions, such persons would be difficult to replace and our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and future prospects could be adversely affected.

To maintain and grow our business, we will need to identify, hire, develop, motivate, and retain highly skilled employees. Identifying, recruiting, training, integrating, and retaining qualified individuals requires significant time, expense, and attention. We may need to invest significant amounts of cash to attract and retain new employees and expend significant time and resources to identify, recruit, train, and integrate such employees, and we may never realize returns on these investments. If we are not able to retain and motivate our current personnel or effectively manage our hiring needs or successfully integrate and retain new hires, our efficiency, ability to achieve our strategic objectives, meet forecasts, and employee morale, productivity, and engagement could suffer, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Any loss of members of our management team or key managerial personnel or senior management could significantly delay or prevent the achievement of our business objectives, affect our succession planning and could harm our business and customer relationships.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

35. If we are unable to obtain, protect or use our intellectual property rights, our business may be adversely affected.

We rely on our intellectual property for the success of our business which includes one domain name and our multiple trademarks. For further details please refer the chapter "Our Business" on page no 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Our domain name may expire, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to renew it after expiry. While we intend to defend against any threats to our intellectual property, we cannot assure you that our intellectual property rights can be adequately protected in a timely manner. We rely on protections available under Indian law, which may not be adequate to prevent unauthorized use of our intellectual property by third parties. Furthermore, the application of laws governing intellectual property rights in India is uncertain and evolving and could expose us to substantial risks and costs. Notwithstanding the precautions we take to protect our intellectual property rights, it is possible that third parties may copy or otherwise infringe on our rights, which may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial conditions, cash flows and future prospects.

Further, while we take care to ensure that we comply with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty whether we are infringing any existing third-party intellectual property rights which may force us to alter our offerings. If such claims are raised against us in the future, they could result in costly litigation, divert management's attention and resources, subject us to significant liabilities and require us to enter into potentially expensive royalty or licensing agreements or to cease use of certain of our brands, can result in significant damages being awarded and injunctions that could prevent us from offering our products. In addition, there is no assurance that steps taken by us to protect our intellectual property rights will be adequate to stop infringement by others, including imitation and misappropriation of our brand. Any of the foregoing could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial conditions, cash flows and future prospects.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

36. Past delays in filings and incomplete documentation may expose the company to regulatory penalties, scrutiny, and reputational risks, potentially affecting operations and future fundraising.

Our company has, in the past, made certain allotments of equity shares for which complete supporting documentation was not available for verification in the records maintained with the Registrar of Companies, Chandigarh. Additionally, the company has filed Form DPT-3 for multiple financial years beyond the timelines prescribed under the Companies (Acceptance of Deposits) Rules, 2014, with payment of additional fees. While the company has rectified these filings and increased its authorized share capital in compliance with statutory requirements, any future delays or non-compliance with applicable laws and regulatory requirements could result in penalties, increased scrutiny by regulatory authorities, or reputational impact. Such non-compliance may adversely affect the company's operations, financial condition, and the ability to raise funds in the future.

37. Our company has experienced delays and defaults in the payment of statutory dues, including taxes, duties, and other government levies.

The Company had previously experienced minor delays in meeting certain statutory payment obligations, including taxes, duties, and contributions to regulatory authorities such as GST, primarily due to technical issues and website glitches.

Financial Year	Return Type	Month	Period of Delay (No of Days)
2022-23	GSTR3B	March	1

2023-24	GSTR3B	March	3
2022-23	GSTR1	June	2
2024-25	GSTR1	April	3
2023-24	GSTR9		8
2023-24	GSTR9C		8

The Company has experienced delays in the deposit of statutory employee welfare contributions, including EPF and ESI, for certain periods. Such delays arose due to operational challenges, including payroll processing delays and technical issues encountered during the payment window. Although the Company has subsequently deposited the outstanding amounts along with applicable interest and late fees, any recurrence of such delays may expose the Company to penalties, interest liabilities, regulatory scrutiny, reputational risk, and potential litigation. Failure to ensure timely compliance with applicable labour and social security laws could adversely affect the Company's financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Apart from these instances, there have been no other delays in meeting statutory payment obligations.

38. We cannot assure you that we will be able to secure adequate financing in future on acceptable terms, in time, or at all.

We may require additional funds in connection with future business expansion and development initiatives. In addition to our existing available funds, we may need additional sources of funding to meet our future requirements, which may include entering into new debt facilities with lending institutions or raising additional debt in the capital markets. If we decide to raise additional funds through the incurrence of debt, our interest obligations will increase, and we may be subject to additional covenants. Such financings could cause our debt-to-equity ratio, which currently stands at 2.22, to increase or require us to create charges or liens on our assets in favour of lenders. We cannot assure you that we will be able to secure adequate financing in the future on acceptable terms, in time, or at all. Our failure to obtain sufficient financing could result in the delay or abandonment of any of our business development plans and this may affect our business and future results of operations.

39. We are exposed to the risk of delays or non-payment by our clients and other counterparties, which may also result in cash flow mismatches.

We are exposed to counterparty credit risk in the usual course of our business dealings with our clients or other counterparties who may delay or fail to make payments or perform their other contractual obligations. The financial condition of our clients, business partners, suppliers and other counterparties may be affected by the performance of their business which may be impacted by several factors including general economic conditions. We cannot assure you of the continued viability of our counterparties or that we will accurately assess their creditworthiness. We also cannot assure you that we will be able to collect the whole or any part of any overdue payments. Any material non-payment or non-performance by our clients, business partners, suppliers or other counterparties could affect our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. For further details of our business and clients, please see "Our Business" and "Management Discussion & Analysis of Financial Conditions and Result of Operation" of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

40. Any disputes with customers regarding product quality, performance, or logistics services may lead to delayed or withheld payments, which could materially and adversely affect our business, operations, and financial condition.

Madhur Knit Crafts follows a made-to-order production model, serving industrial enterprises, manufacturers, and institutional clients requiring customized textile solutions. While this approach minimizes overproduction and optimizes raw material usage, any dispute with customers regarding our performance, quality, or workmanship could result in delays or withholding of payments.

Additionally, the Company provides logistics and transportation services aligned with customer requirements. Any failure to meet delivery timelines, quality standards, or specific service expectations could lead to customer dissatisfaction, disputes, or delayed payments. Such disputes or delays in receiving payments may materially and adversely affect the Company's business, operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assurance that such events may not occur in the future.

41. If we are unable to recruit, train and retain qualified personnel, our business may be materially and adversely affected.

Our future success depends on our ability to attract, develop, motivate, and retain qualified and skilled employees. Competition for talent across various functions, including operations, sales, marketing, and technology, is intense. In particular, junior employees may be more likely to leave for other opportunities.

We may not be able to hire or retain personnel on compensation terms consistent with our existing structures. Some of our competitors may have greater resources and offer more attractive employment terms. Additionally, we invest significant time and resources in training our employees, which can make them valuable to other companies seeking to recruit them.

Failure to retain key employees could increase hiring and training costs and affect our operational efficiency, service delivery, and overall business performance, potentially having a material adverse effect on our operations. For further details please refer “Our Business” chapter on page no 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

42. Any change in government laws could affect the flow of our operations and disrupt our business activities.

Our Company needs to comply with many varied laws/regulations due to the nature of business that we conduct. These laws are subject to change at the discretion of the Government. Our Company may be subject to increased expenses to comply with such changes in the applicable laws which may affect the flow of our operations. Failure to do so may also induce our Company to incur penalties. For further details please refer to the chapter “Key Regulations and Policies” on page no 154 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

43. Upon completion of the Issue, our Promoters / Promoter Group may continue to retain significant control, which will allow them to influence the outcome of matters submitted to the shareholders for approval.

Upon completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group are expected to collectively hold approximately [●] % of the total post-issue Equity Shares. Please refer to the “Summary of the Issue Document” on page 18 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus. This concentration of ownership will allow them to exercise significant influence over matters requiring shareholder approval, including the election of Board members in accordance with the Companies Act and our Articles of Association.

Such a high level of control may delay, prevent, or deter strategic decisions that could be beneficial to the Company or effect a change in control for the benefit of other stakeholders. Furthermore, our Promoters may influence the Company’s decisions in a manner that could conflict with the interests of the Company, its creditors, or minority shareholders, and we cannot assure that such actions will not adversely affect our future financial performance or the price of our Equity Shares.

44. Employee misconduct, errors or fraud could expose us to business risks or losses that could adversely affect our business prospects, results of operations and financial condition.

Employee misconduct, errors or frauds could expose us to business risks or losses, including regulatory sanctions, penalties and serious harm to our reputation. Such employee misconduct includes breach in security requirements, misappropriation of funds, hiding unauthorized activities, failure to observe our operational standards and processes, and improper use of confidential information. It is not always possible to detect or deter such misconduct, and the precautions we take to prevent and detect such misconduct may not be effective. In addition, losses caused on account of employee misconduct or misappropriation of petty cash expenses and advances may not be recoverable, which we may result in write-off of such amounts and thereby adversely affecting our results of operations. Our employees may also commit errors that could subject us to claims and proceedings for alleged negligence, as well as regulatory actions in which case, our reputation, business prospects, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

45. We may not be successful in implementing our business strategies.

The success of our business depends substantially on our ability to implement our business strategies effectively. Even though we have successfully executed our business strategies in the past, there is no guarantee that we can implement the same on time and within the estimated budget going forward, or that we will be able to meet the expectations of our targeted clients. Changes in regulations applicable to us may also make it difficult to implement our business strategies. Failure to implement our business strategies would have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

46. Industry information included in this prospectus has been derived from industry reports. There can be no assurance that such third-party statistical, financial and other industry information is either complete or accurate.

We have relied on the reports of certain independent third party for purposes of inclusion of such information in this prospectus. These reports are subject to various limitations and based upon certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. We have not independently verified data from such industry reports and other sources. Although we believe that the data may be considered to be reliable, their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed. For Further details please refer to the “Our Industry” on page 116 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

47. The deployment of funds raised through this Issue shall not be subject to any Monitoring Agency and shall be purely dependent on the discretion of the management of our Company.

The deployment of funds raised through this Issue will not be monitored by any independent agency and will be entirely at the discretion of the management and the Board of Directors of our Company. Since the Issue size is below ₹5,000 lakhs, there is no mandatory requirement to appoint an Independent Monitoring Agency to oversee utilization of the proceeds. For further details please refer to “Object of the Issue” on page 84 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Any inability to effectively deploy the Issue proceeds in accordance with the objects of the Issue could adversely affect our financial position. Further, as per Regulation 262(6), in respect of the portion of proceeds allocated for working capital exceeding ₹500 lakhs, we are required to submit a certificate from our statutory auditor to the EMERGE exchange(s) while filing quarterly financial results until such proceeds are fully utilized.

48. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of our dividend history, see “Dividend Policy” on page 189 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Although, Our Company has not declared or paid any dividend as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

49. Any future issuance of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholdings, and sale of the Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

Any future equity issuance by our Company may lead to the dilution of investors’ shareholdings in our Company. In addition, any sale of substantial Equity Shares in the public market after the completion of this Issue, including by our major shareholders, or the perception that such sales could occur, could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares and could significantly impair our future ability to raise capital through offerings of the Equity Shares. We cannot predict what effect, if any, market sales of the Equity Shares held by the major shareholders of our Company or the availability of these Equity Shares for future sale will have on the market price of our Equity Shares.

For further details of allotments, please refer to the chapter titled “Capital Structure” on page 67 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

50. The requirements of being a public listed company may strain our resources and impose additional requirements.

With the increased scrutiny of the affairs of a public listed company by shareholders, regulators and the public at large, we will incur significant legal, accounting, corporate governance and other expenses that we did not incur in the past. We will also be subject to the provisions of the listing agreements signed with the Stock Exchange(s) which require us to file unaudited financial results on a half yearly basis. In order to meet our financial control and disclosure obligations, significant resources and management supervision will be required. As a result, management’s attention may be diverted from other business concerns, which could have an adverse effect on our business and operations. There can be no assurance that we will be able to satisfy our reporting obligations and/or readily determine and report any changes to our results of operations in a timely manner as other listed companies. In addition, we will need to increase the strength of our management team and hire additional legal and accounting staff with appropriate public company experience and accounting knowledge and we cannot assure that we will be able to do so in a timely manner.

51. Stringent environmental, health and safety laws and regulations or stringent enforcement of environmental, health and safety laws and regulations may result in increased liabilities and capital expenditures and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Our operations are subject to environmental, health and safety and other regulatory and/or statutory requirements in the countries in which we operate. Our operations may generate certain amounts of pollutants and waste, some of which may be hazardous in nature. The discharge, storage and disposal of such hazardous substances are subject to environmental regulations. The scope and extent of new environmental regulations, including their effect on our operations, cannot be predicted. The costs and management time required to comply with these requirements could be significant. The measures we implement in order to comply with these new laws and regulations may not be deemed sufficient by governmental authorities and our compliance costs may significantly exceed our estimates. In addition, due to the possibility of unanticipated regulatory or other developments, the amount of future environmental expenditures may vary widely from those currently anticipated. Further, any environment related investments/expenditure may reduce funds available for other investments. There can be no assurance that we will not become involved in future litigation or other proceedings or be held responsible in any such future litigation or proceedings relating to safety, health and environmental matters in the future, the costs of which could be material. Clean-up, remediation costs, as well as damages, temporary shutdown of operations and other liabilities and related litigation, may adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

52. Interest rate fluctuations may adversely affect the Company's business.

The Company may enter into certain borrowing arrangements to finance its capital requirements in the ordinary course of business for general working capital purposes. In the event interest rates increase, the Company's costs of borrowing will increase, and its profitability and results of operations may be adversely affected.

For further details relating to interest rates, please refer to the chapter titled “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on page 172 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

53. Our inability to establish internal control systems could cause operational errors which may adversely affect our business.

A critical piece of our growth strategy is to develop and maintain streamlined internal systems and processes in order to enhance efficiency and profitability. While we are constantly focused on optimizing our internal controls, any possible lapse in our control mechanism may lead to errors and anomalies that may impact our operations.

Although, there have been no material events relating to this risk factor as of the date of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there can be no assure that such events may not occur in the future.

54. Our growth will depend on our ability to build our brand and failure to do so will negatively impact our ability to effectively compete in this industry.

We believe that we need to continue to build our brand, which will be critical for achieving widespread recognition of our services. Promoting and positioning our brand will depend largely on the success of our marketing efforts and our ability to provide high quality services. The brand promotion activities that we may undertake may not yield increased revenues, and even if they do, any increased revenues may not offset the expenses we incur in building our brand. If we are unable to promote and maintain our brand, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

55. Our directors do not have experience of a listed company and in the absence of such experience, it could adversely affect our corporate governance and business operations of our Company.

In the realm of corporate governance and leadership, the experience of directors plays a crucial role in steering the course of a company. It is often perceived that directors with prior experience in listed companies bring invaluable insights, knowledge, and strategic acumen to the boardroom. Furthermore, the absence of listed company experience among directors may limit their ability to effectively oversee risk management frameworks and succession planning strategies. These oversight responsibilities are critical in mitigating operational risks, ensuring organizational resilience, and safeguarding against potential conflicts of interest or ethical lapses. Although our company's board of directors is pivotal in shaping its strategic direction, ensuring regulatory compliance, and safeguarding stakeholder interests.

Further, our directors lack of direct experience in a listed environment may inadvertently expose the company to the risk of corporate governance and affect the business operation of our Company. For Further details, please refer to chapter titled “Our Management” beginning on Page 167 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

56. External shocks like the COVID-19 pandemic may have an impact on our business and operations.

In the past the Covid 19 pandemic has forced many countries including India to impose country-wide lockdowns, restrictions on travel and business operations including temporary closure of business. Further the pandemic has also been disruptive for the logistics business. Any future threat of a Covid-19 like situation cannot be ruled out and we cannot assure you that we shall be in a position to fully counter and/or address the effects of such an external shock to fully safeguard our business and operations.

57. Our future funds requirements, in the form of fresh issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interest of the shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any fresh issue of shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favourable to the then existing shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt, then it may substantially increase our interest burden and decrease our cash flows, thus prejudicially affecting our profitability and ability to pay dividends to our shareholders

58. The market capitalization to revenue, market capitalisation to tangible assets, and enterprise value (“EV”) to EBITDA, based on the Issue Price of our Company, may not be indicative of the market price of our Company on listing or thereafter.

The market capitalization to revenue, market capitalization to tangible assets, and enterprise value (EV) to EBITDA ratios based on the Issue Price of our Company may not accurately reflect the market price of our equity shares upon listing or at any time thereafter. These valuation metrics are influenced by various factors, including prevailing market conditions, investor sentiment, and company-specific developments, which may not be directly related to our operational performance or financial results.

The Issue Price has been determined based on multiple qualitative and quantitative factors, including comparisons with peer companies, industry outlook, and feedback from investors during the book-building process. However, there is no assurance that these metrics will remain consistent post-listing, as they may fluctuate due to external factors such as broader market volatility, economic conditions, or changes in industry dynamics.

Any significant deviation of the market price of our equity shares from these valuation metrics may adversely affect investor confidence and could lead to volatility in the trading price of our equity shares, thereby impacting the market perception of our Company.

59. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on sale of Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws and regulations, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian Company are generally taxable in India. Any gain realized on the sale of listed Equity Shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months shall be subject to capital gains tax in India at 10% of such capital gain exceeding Rs. 1 lakh if Securities Transaction Tax (STT) has been paid on both acquisition and transfer of such shares. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of Equity Shares held for more than 12 months to an Indian resident, which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India. However, any gain realized on the sale of listed Equity Shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Further, any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less which are sold other than on a recognised stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to short term capital gains tax at a relatively higher rate as compared to the transaction where STT has been paid in India. For more details, please refer to the section entitled “Statement of Tax Benefit.

Issue Related Risk Factors

60. We cannot assure you that our equity shares will be listed on the NSE EMERGE in a timely manner or at all, which may restrict your ability to dispose of the equity shares.

Though we shall make best of our efforts to comply with all applicable regulatory, financial and operational requirements for getting the equity shares proposed to be offered through this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus listed on EMERGE platform in a time bound manner, yet on account of any change in applicable laws, economic conditions and/or any other reason/s beyond our control, the said shares may not get listed on the EMERGE Platform of National Stock Exchange of India Limited in a timely manner or at all, which may restrict your ability to dispose of the equity shares. However, even in such circumstances, the Company shall stay fully committed to pay such interest and/or refund the full application amount, as may be required in accordance with the applicable regulatory directives.

61. Sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters or other significant shareholder(s) may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any instance of disinvestments of equity shares by our Promoters or by other significant shareholder(s) may significantly affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Further, our market price may also be adversely affected even if there is a perception or belief that such sales of Equity Shares might occur.

62. After this Issue, the price of the Equity Shares may be highly volatile, or an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop.

After listing permission and trading permission of equity shares have been granted, the price of the shares shall be driven by free market forces. The market price of a company's share is determined by the forces of supply and demand in the stock market. These forces are influenced by a variety of factors, including the company's financial performance, industry trends, economic conditions, and investor sentiment. When a company issues equity shares, it sets an issue price based on various factors such as the company's valuation, the prevailing market conditions, and the demand for its shares. However, the issue price is not necessarily indicative of the market price of the shares after the issue. Once the shares are listed on the stock exchange, their price is determined by the forces of supply and demand in the market. If there is strong demand for the shares, the price may rise above the issue price, and if there is weak demand, the price may fall below the issue price. Therefore, while the issue price of equity shares provides a starting point for the company's valuation, it is not necessarily a reliable indicator of the market price of the shares after the issue. Investors should carefully evaluate all relevant factors and information before making investment decisions in the stock market.

63. There are restrictions on daily movements in the price of the Equity Shares, which may adversely affect a shareholder's ability to sell, or the price at which it can sell, Equity Shares at a particular point in time.

Following the Issue, we will be subject to a daily "circuit breaker" imposed by the Stock Exchange, which does not allow transactions beyond specified increases or decreases in the price of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker operates independently of the index-based, market-wide circuit breakers generally imposed by SEBI on Indian stock exchanges. The percentage limit on our circuit breakers will be set by the stock exchange based on the historical volatility in the price and trading volume of the Equity Shares. This circuit breaker will limit the upward and downward movements in the price of the Equity Shares. As a result of this circuit breaker, no assurance can be given regarding your ability to sell your Equity Shares or the price at which you may be able to sell your Equity Shares at any particular time.

64. The Issue price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue and the market price of our Equity Shares may decline below the issue price and you may not be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined by Book Built method. This price is being based on numerous factors (For further information, please see the section "Basis for Issue Price" of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus) and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue, and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price. Among the factors that could affect our share price include without limitation. The following:

- Half yearly variations in the rate of growth of our financial indicators, such as earnings per share, net income and revenues;
- Changes in revenue or earnings estimates or publication of research reports by analysts;
- Speculation in the press or investment community;
- General market conditions; and
- Domestic and international economic, legal and regulatory factors unrelated to our performance.

65. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company constituted through share capital and incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction in which the investors are located do not permit them to exercise their preemptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emption rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in us would be reduced.

External Risk Factors

66. If there is any change in laws or regulations, or their interpretation, such changes may significantly affect our financial statements or affect our conduct of operation.

Any change in Indian tax laws could have an effect on our operations. For instance, the Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2019, prescribes certain changes to the income tax rate applicable to companies in India. According to this Act, companies can henceforth voluntarily opt in favor of a concessional tax regime (subject to no other special benefits/exemptions being claimed), which would ultimately reduce the tax rate (on gross basis) for Indian companies. Any such future amendments may affect our ability to claim exemptions that we have historically benefited from, and such exemptions may no longer be available to us. Any adverse order passed by the appellate authorities/ tribunals/ courts would have an effect on our profitability.

The Finance Act, 2020 ("Finance Act"), has, amongst other things, provided a number of amendments to the direct and indirect tax regime, including, without limitation, a simplified alternate direct tax regime. For instance, dividend distribution tax ("DDT") will not be payable in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident and are likely be subject to tax deduction at source.

Further, the Government of India has introduced the Finance Bill, 2023, in the Union Budget for Fiscal 2024. The Finance Bill, 2023 proposes various amendments to taxation laws in India. As such, there is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Bill, 2023 may have on our business and operations or on the industry in which we operate. In addition, unfavorable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business, operations and group structure could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws or may require us to apply for additional approvals. We may incur increased costs relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future.

67. If we fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to successfully manage, or accurately report, our financial risks.

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by it while taking into account the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls to ensure the orderly and efficient conduct of our business, including adherence to our policies, the safeguarding of our assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013. Effective internal controls are necessary for us to prepare reliable financial reports and effectively avoid fraud. Moreover, any internal controls that we may implement, or our level of compliance with such controls, may deteriorate over time, due to evolving business conditions. While we have taken measures to strengthen our internal control system and have conducted audits to review gaps and process weaknesses and implemented the suggested measures, there can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise in the future, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls. Any inability on our part to adequately detect, rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls may adversely impact our ability to accurately report, or successfully manage, our financial risks, and to avoid fraud.

68. Changes in government regulations or their implementation could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business and industry is regulated by different laws, rules and regulations framed by the Central and State Government. These regulations can be amended/ changed on a short notice at the discretion of the Government. If we fail to comply with all applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business or their implementation change adversely, we may incur increased costs or be subject to penalties, which could disrupt our operations and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

69. Any adverse change or downgrade in the Sovereign Ratings of India may adversely affect our business, results of operations and cash flows.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings international debt by international rating freight brokers may adversely affect our ability to raise additional overseas financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of our Equity Shares.

70. Political instability or a change in economic liberalization and deregulation policies could seriously harm business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting the information technology sector, foreign investment and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

71. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

72. Natural calamities like epidemics, pandemic, or fire, war, terrorist attacks, civil riots or other events could materially and adversely affect our business.

Natural disasters (earthquakes, floods, etc.), epidemics, pandemics, war, terrorist attacks and other events, which are beyond our control, may lead to economic instability, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Our operations could also be adversely affected by fires, natural disasters and/or severe weather, which can result in damage to our property. We cannot assure you that there will not be any such accidents in the future thereby causing an adverse effect. We cannot assure you that there will not be any such accidents in the future thereby causing an adverse effect on our business and operations. Any terrorist attacks or civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic and political events in India could have a negative effect on us. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

73. The Indian tax regime is currently undergoing substantial changes which could adversely affect our business.

The goods and service tax ("GST") that has been implemented with effect from July 1, 2017 combines taxes and levies by the GoI and state governments into a unified rate structure, and replaces indirect taxes on goods and services such as central excise duty, service tax, customs duty, central sales tax, state VAT, cess and surcharge and excise that were being collected by the GoI and state governments. As regards the General Anti-Avoidance Rules ("GAAR"), the general anti avoidance rules ("GAAR") provisions have been made effective from assessment year 2018-19 onwards, i.e.; financial Year 2017-18. The GAAR provisions intend to declare an arrangement as an "impermissible avoidance arrangement", if the main purpose or one of the main purposes of such arrangement is to obtain a tax benefit, and satisfies at least one of the following tests (i) creates rights, or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between persons dealing at arm's length; (ii) results, directly or indirectly, in misuse, or abuse, of the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961; (iii) lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance, in whole or in part; or (iv) is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, that is not ordinarily engaged for bona fide purposes. If GAAR provisions are invoked, the tax authorities will have wider powers, including denial of tax benefit or a benefit under a tax treaty. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is uncertain. As the taxation regime in India is undergoing a significant overhaul, its consequent effects on economy cannot be determined at present and there can be no assurance that such effects would not adversely affect our business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

74. Financial instability, economic developments and volatility in securities markets in other countries may also cause the price of the Equity Shares to decline.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging Asian market countries. Financial turmoil in Europe and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. In recent times, the Indian financial markets had been negatively affected by the volatility in global financial market, including on account of certain European nations' debt troubles and move to break away by the United Kingdom from the European Union. Although, economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. Currencies of a few Asian countries have in the past suffered depreciation against the U.S. Dollar owing to, amongst other, the announcements by the U.S. government that it may consider reducing its quantitative easing measures. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur and could harm our business, future financial performance and the prices of the Equity Shares.

75. A significant change in the Government of India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect our business and the price of our Equity Shares.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised, and continues to exercise, a dominant influence over many aspects of the economy. Unfavourable government policies including those relating to the internet and e-commerce, consumer protection and data privacy, could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, and could also affect our ability to implement our strategy and our future financial performance. Since 1991, successive governments, including coalition governments, have pursued policies of economic liberalization, including significantly relaxing restrictions on the private sector and encouraging the development of the Indian financial sector. However, the members of the Government of India and the composition of the coalition in power are subject to change. As a result, it is difficult to predict the economic policies that will be pursued by the Government of India. For example, there may be an increasing number of laws and regulations pertaining to the internet and e-commerce, which may relate to liability for information retrieved from or transmitted over the internet or mobile networks, user privacy, content restrictions and the quality of services and products sold or provided through the internet. The rate of economic liberalization could change and specific laws and policies affecting the financial services industry, foreign investment, currency exchange and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well.

Any significant change in India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

1. Funding capital expenditure for the purchase of Solar panels.

Introduction

Our Company proposes to allocate a portion of the Net Proceeds, amounting to ₹400.00 lakhs, towards the installation of rooftop solar power plant at our existing manufacturing facilities. This investment is aimed at reducing electricity costs, promoting sustainability, and improving long-term efficiency.

Proposed solar installation will have a capacity of approximately 1500 KW and will be connected to the main electricity grid. This arrangement will enable us to directly utilize the solar power generated, while any surplus electricity beyond our consumption will be fed back into the grid, thereby reducing our electricity bills. The plant will be equipped with high-efficiency mono half-cut bifacial solar modules, based on N-Type Topcon technology, which enhances performance, durability, and overall energy yield by capturing both direct and reflected sunlight.

The installations will also comprise inverters for converting solar energy into usable electricity, mounting structures to support the panels, and comprehensive safety equipment, including DCDB/ACDB boxes to regulate power flow, earthing systems to prevent electrical hazards, and lightning protection devices.

Plant is expected to generate approximately 1,68,750 to 1,80,000 units of electricity per month, as per the supplier quotations. This generation is projected to result in monthly savings of ₹11.81 lakhs to ₹12.60 lakhs, significantly reducing dependence on traditional grid power and lowering operating costs.

The project will be implemented on a turnkey basis, wherein the contractor will be responsible for the design, supply, installation, testing, and handover of fully operational plants. Plant will span an area of 84000 sq.ft. and will be backed by performance warranties covering both solar modules and inverters to ensure long-term reliability.

Beyond financial benefits, these projects will substantially reduce our carbon footprint, reinforcing our alignment with global sustainability goals.

The details of the Plant and Machinery to be acquired by our company is provided Below

The percentage and value terms of the plant and machinery for which orders are yet to be placed:

We confirm that we are yet to place orders for the entire percentage and value of Plant and Machinery to be acquired by our Company from the Issue Proceeds.

Benefits arising out of this capital expenditure.

1.Reduction in Energy Costs

Based on annualised electricity consumption, the Company's grid power usage is estimated at 37.19 lakh units, with a corresponding electricity cost of approximately ₹3.04 crore. The solar power plant is expected to generate approximately 20.25 lakh units per annum (around 1.69 lakh units per month), resulting in estimated annual electricity cost savings of approximately ₹1.42 crore.

Particulars	Units (kVAh)	Annual Cost (₹ lakh)
Annualised Grid Power Consumption (Pre-Solar)	37,19,840	304.06

Electricity Generated from Solar Power	(20,25,000)	(141.75)
Net Grid Power Consumption (Post-Solar)	16,94,840	162.31
Estimated Annual Savings	—	141.75

Post adjustment for solar power generation, the Company's net grid power consumption is expected to reduce to approximately 16.95 lakh units per annum, with an estimated residual electricity cost of approximately ₹162.31 lakh, representing a reduction of nearly 47% in annual electricity expenditure.

2. Efficient Utilization of Excess Power

The proposed 1,500 kW solar plant is expected to generate about 1,68,750 units of electricity per month. At times, especially when production is lower, the electricity generated may be more than the Company's immediate requirement. Any excess power will be sent back to the grid under the net-metering system. This will reduce the amount of electricity purchased from the grid at other times. At the current power cost of ₹7 per unit, this arrangement supports the estimated monthly savings of about ₹11.81 lakh and improves the overall financial benefits of the project.

3. Enhanced Operational Efficiency

The solar plant will supply a part of the Company's electricity needs directly at the manufacturing facility, especially during operations. With annual electricity costs estimated at ₹3.04 crore for FY 2026, using solar power will reduce dependence on grid electricity and limit the impact of power cuts, tariff changes, or supply disruptions. This reliable power supply will help ensure smooth manufacturing operations, improve energy security, and support stable operations over the long term.

4. Sustainability and Environmental Responsibility

The adoption of renewable solar energy will contribute to a reduction in the Company's carbon footprint by replacing a portion of grid-based electricity with clean energy. This supports the Company's sustainability initiatives and aligns with evolving ESG expectations of investors, regulators, and customers.

5. Long-Term Reliability and Performance

The proposed solar power plant will utilise high-efficiency solar modules incorporating N-Type TOPCon technology, supported by supplier performance warranties on solar modules and inverters. This is expected to ensure consistent energy generation, long service life, and reliable performance over the operating life of the plant.

6. Strategic Competitive Advantage

The investment reinforces the Company's commitment to renewable energy adoption, operational excellence, and cost optimisation. Strong project economics, including a payback period of approximately 2.46 years, an XIRR of approximately 36.76%, and cumulative cash flows turning positive in Year 3, enhance long-term shareholder value and strengthen the Company's brand and competitive positioning.

7. Tax Efficiency

The project is eligible for accelerated depreciation at 40% on a written-down value basis, resulting in significant tax benefits in the initial years of operation. These tax benefits enhance post-tax cash flows and improve overall project viability.

8. Turnkey Project Execution

The project will be executed on a turnkey basis, covering design, engineering, supply, installation, testing, and commissioning by the appointed contractor. This approach will ensure seamless implementation with minimal operational disruption and timely commissioning of the solar power plant.

We hereby confirm that the proposed rooftop solar power plant, along with all associated equipment, including solar modules, inverters, mounting structures, and electrical and safety components, will be procured as brand-new equipment from reputed suppliers. Our Company has not purchased, and does not intend to purchase, any second-hand or refurbished machinery for this project.

The rooftop solar power plant will be implemented entirely within our existing manufacturing facilities and, as per the applicable laws and regulations, will not require any specific government approvals, permissions, or clearances. The Company will, however, ensure full compliance with all applicable safety standards, technical specifications, and operational norms during execution and operation of the project.

2. Working Capital Requirements

The Company proposes to utilise a portion of the net proceeds of the Issue towards meeting its working capital requirements to support inventory procurement, receivables management, and ongoing operational activities and we fund a majority of our working capital requirements in the ordinary course of business from banks, and through our internal accruals. Our Company requires additional working capital for funding its incremental working capital requirements in the Financial Year ending March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2027. The funding of the incremental working capital requirements of our Company will help lead to a consequent increase in our profitability and in achieving the proposed targets as per our business plan. We intend to utilise Rs. 1410.00 Lakhs from the Net Proceeds to fund working capital requirements of our Company in the Financial Years ended March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2027.

Rationale For Raising Additional Working Capital

The Company's working capital requirement has increased in recent years and is expected to rise further in line with growth in operations, capacity expansion, and changes in credit and procurement practices.

Following Table reflects working capital parameters as % of revenue:

Particulars	31.03.23	31.03.24	31.03.25	30.06.25*
	(Actual)	(Actual)	(Actual)	(Actual)
Trade Receivable as % of revenue	15.71%	26.13%	22.27%	22.66%
Inventory as % of revenue	33.16%	21.88%	22.69%	12.88%
Trade Payable as % of revenue	13.77%	11.26%	9.13%	9.23%
Working Capital Requirement as % of Revenue	38.16%	41.48%	37.21%	40.97%

*Annualised

Notes:

1. Trade receivables as a percentage of revenue are calculated by dividing the trade receivables by the revenue of that period.
2. Inventory as a percentage of revenue is calculated by dividing the inventory for a particular period by the revenue of that period.
3. Trade payables as a percentage of revenue are calculated by dividing the trade payables for a particular period by the revenue of that period.
4. Working capital requirement as a percentage of revenue is calculated by dividing the working capital requirement for a particular period by the revenue of that period.

Receivables Growth Aligned with Revenue Expansion

Trade receivables have increased in line with higher sales volumes as the Company expanded its capacity and transitioned into a fully integrated yarn-to-cloth operation. Trade receivable days rose from 57 days in FY 2023 to 95 days in FY 2024, before moderating to 81 days in FY 2025. For the stub period ended June 30, 2025, trade receivable days stood at approximately 82 days. In absolute terms, receivables are projected to increase from ₹3,822.52 lakhs in FY 2025 to ₹4990.68 lakhs in FY 2026 and ₹5,833.42 lakhs in FY 2027, in line with operational growth. Going forward, receivable days are expected to stabilize at around 80 days, reflecting a balanced approach between providing credit to customers to support market expansion and maintaining sufficient liquidity.

Inventory Requirements Linked to Manufacturing Integration

With the transition to end-to-end manufacturing in FY 2024–25, the Company now oversees the entire production cycle, necessitating adequate levels of raw materials, work-in-progress, and finished goods to ensure seamless operations and timely order fulfilment. Efficiency improvements from this integration have led to reduced inventory intensity, with inventory days declining from 155 days in FY 2023 to 119 days in FY 2025. For the stub period ended June 30, 2025, inventory days stood at 61, primarily due to an unexpected surge in orders during the first quarter of the financial year. In absolute terms, inventories are projected to increase from ₹3,893.99 lakhs in FY 2025 to ₹4,725.42 lakhs in FY 2026 and ₹5,535.00 lakhs in FY 2027. Going forward, inventory days are expected to stabilize at around 110 days, in line with higher production volumes and expanded operations.

Reduction in Trade Payables due to Early-Payment Strategy

Trade payable days have declined significantly as the Company implemented a strategy of faster supplier payments to avail early-payment discounts and strengthen supplier relationships. These discounts vary based on purchase volume and payment mode (for instance, flat rebates per 100 MT or percentage-based discounts on bulk or cash purchases). While this approach enhances procurement efficiency and reduces raw material costs, it also limits credit availability and increases the overall working capital requirement. Payable days decreased from 65 days in FY 2023 to 48 days in FY 2025, and stood at 43 days for the stub period ended June 30, 2025. They are expected to further reduce to around 40 days from FY 2026 onwards. As a percentage of revenue, trade payables declined from 13.77% in FY 2023 to 9.13% in FY 2025 and are projected to remain below 7% to 8% during FY 2026–27.

Overall Impact on Working Capital Cycle

The Cash Conversion Cycle was 148 days in both FY 2023 and FY 2024, rose slightly to 153 days in FY 2025, and improved to 100 days for the stub period ended June 30, 2025, as efficiency gains in inventory and receivables were partly offset by lower trade payables. Looking ahead, the cash conversion cycle is expected to stabilize at approximately 150 days in FY 2025–26 and FY 2026–27, reflecting a balanced approach to liquidity and operational efficiency. Overall, while receivable and inventory management have improved, the reduction in trade payables has kept the cash conversion cycle broadly stable in recent years.

Working capital as a percentage of revenue was 38.16% in FY 2023, increased to 41.48% in FY 2024, and moderated to 37.21% in FY 2025. It is projected to remain in the range of 38% of revenue in FY 25-26 and FY 26–27, broadly stable in percentage terms but higher in absolute value, in line with the scale-up in operations.

The Company's capex and shift to end-to-end manufacturing have supported capacity expansion and improved inventory efficiency. However, higher receivables linked to sales growth and strategic reduction in trade payables to capture supplier discounts have increased net working capital requirements. Accordingly, the Company proposes to utilize a portion of the Net Proceeds of the Issue towards meeting its incremental working capital requirements.

Key Assumptions & Justifications for increase / decrease in holding norms

Particulars	Assumptions & Justifications
Current Assets
Inventory
i. Raw Material	Raw material holding days for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 109 days, 62 days and 76 days respectively. The holding period saw a reduction in F.Y. 2023-24 due to improved procurement planning and inventory management, followed by an increase in F.Y. 2024-25 on account of higher stocking to meet production requirements. The Company anticipates maintaining raw material holding days at around 70 days in F.Y. 2025-26 and 2026-27 respectively.
ii. Work In Progress	Work-in-progress inventory holding days for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 4 days, 5 days and 10 days respectively. The increase in F.Y. 2024-25 was primarily due to higher production cycle times. The Company expects to maintain work-in-progress holding at around 9 days in F.Y. 2025-26 and 2026-27 respectively.
iii. Finished goods	Finished goods holding days for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 39 days, 40 days and 28 days respectively. The decrease in F.Y. 2024-25 was driven by improved demand forecasting and faster order fulfilment. The Company expects finished goods holding days to remain at around levels of 26 days each for F.Y. 2025-26 and 2026-27.
iv. Consumable, Stores and packing materials	Consumables, stores and packing materials holding days for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 3 days, 2 days and 6 days respectively. The temporary increase in F.Y. 2024-25 was on account of advance bulk purchases. The Company expects the holding period to normalize at 5 days each for F.Y. 2025-26 and 2026-27.
Trade Receivables	Trade receivable days increased from 57 in FY 2022 to 95 in FY 2023, before easing to 81 in FY 2025. The sharp rise was primarily due to the company's decision to extend more lenient credit terms to drive sales growth and capture market share. While this strategy boosted revenues, it also led to higher working capital needs and longer cash conversion cycles. From FY 2024 onwards, the company introduced tighter collection practices, resulting in a moderation of receivable days. Looking ahead, the company intends to maintain receivable days at around 80, balancing customer support through flexible credit terms with the need to preserve strong cash flows for future growth.

Short-term Loans and Advances	Short-term loans and advances primarily comprise advances to suppliers, employees, and other operational advances. The balances stood at ₹416.17 lakhs, ₹739.59 lakhs, and ₹1,059.46 lakhs as at March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024, and March 31, 2025, respectively, reflecting a gradual increase in line with the expansion of operations. As at June 30, 2025, the balance was ₹1,405.86 lakhs, which is broadly in line with the projected level as of March 31, 2026, indicating consistency in the Company's advance requirements and working capital deployment. The Company expects these levels to remain stable, with marginal growth to ₹1,410.00 lakhs and ₹1,645.00 lakhs for FY 2025-26 and FY 2026-27, respectively, in line with the overall increase in business volume.
Other Current Assets	Other current assets primarily comprise prepaid expenses and other recoverables. The balance of other current assets stood at ₹4.99 lakhs, ₹5.34 lakhs, and ₹6.77 lakhs as at March 31, 2023, March 31, 2024, and March 31, 2025, respectively, indicating a marginal increase in line with business expansion. For the stub period ended June 30, 2025, the balance was ₹10.67 lakhs. The Company projects this to remain broadly stable at ₹7.00 lakhs for FY 2025-26 and FY 2026-27, reflecting consistency in operational and administrative requirements. The level of other current assets is not material in relation to total current assets and is expected to remain steady over the projection period.
Current Liabilities
Trade Payables	Trade payables holding days stood at 65 days, 56 days, and 48 days for FY2022, FY2023, and FY2025 respectively, reflecting a steady reduction over the years. This decline was primarily driven by improved cash flow management and a strategic shift towards quicker settlement of dues to strengthen supplier relationships. Going forward, the company plans to further reduce the trade payables period to around 40 days, capitalizing on early payment discounts offered by vendors. This move is aimed at enhancing profitability by lowering procurement costs, while continuing to maintain healthy supplier relationships and ensuring a more efficient cash flow cycle to support future growth.
Other Current Liabilities	Other Current Liabilities mainly include statutory dues, expenses payable to employees, interest accrued, and advances to suppliers of goods and capital machinery. Other current liabilities holding days for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 7 days, 10 days and 16 days respectively. The increase in holding period over the years was primarily on account of timing of payments and accruals. The Company expects to maintain the holding period at around 9 days in F.Y. 2025-26 and 7 days in F.Y. 2026-27.
Short term provisions	Short-term provisions include provision for income tax and provision for gratuity. Our short-term provisions holding period for the F.Y. 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25 were 1 day, 1 day and 10 days respectively. The holding period has remained low due to timely settlements and efficient financial planning. Further, the Company anticipates maintaining the short-term provisions holding period at around 8 days and 6 days for F.Y. 2025-26 and 2026-27 respectively.

As per the certificate dated 15th October 2025, issued by our Statutory Auditors, V.V. Bhalla & Co., Chartered Accountants, have compiled and confirmed the working capital estimates and working capital projections.

Global Outlook:

Following an unprecedented series of shocks in the preceding years, global growth was stable yet underwhelming through 2024 and was projected to remain so in the January 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO) Update. However, the landscape has changed as governments around the world reorder policy priorities. Since the release of the January 2025 WEO Update, a series of new tariff measures by the United States and countermeasures by its trading partners have been announced and implemented, ending up in near-universal US tariffs on April 2 and bringing effective tariff rates to levels not seen in a century (Figure ES.1). This on its own is a major negative shock to growth. The unpredictability with which these measures have been unfolding also has a negative impact on economic activity and the outlook and, at the same time, makes it more difficult than usual to make assumptions that would constitute a basis for an internally consistent and timely set of projections.

The swift escalation of trade tensions and extremely high levels of policy uncertainty are expected to have a significant impact on global economic activity. Under the reference forecast that incorporates information as of April 4, global growth is projected to drop to 2.8 percent in 2025 and 3 percent in 2026—down from 3.3 percent for both years in the January 2025 WEO Update, corresponding to a cumulative down grade of 0.8 percentage point, and much below the historical (2000–19) average of 3.7 percent.

In the reference forecast, growth in advanced economies is projected to be 1.4 percent in 2025. Growth in the United States is expected to slow to 1.8 percent, a pace that is 0.9 percentage point lower relative to the projection in the January 2025 WEO Update, on account of greater policy uncertainty, trade tensions, and softer demand momentum, whereas growth in the euro area at 0.8 percent is expected to slow by 0.2 percentage point. In emerging market and developing economies, growth is expected to slow down to 3.7 percent in 2025 and 3.9 percent in 2026, with significant downgrades for countries affected most by recent trade measures, such as China. Global headline inflation is expected to decline at a pace that is slightly slower than what was expected in January, reaching 4.3 percent in 2025 and 3.6 percent in 2026, with notable upward revisions for advanced economies and slight downward revisions for emerging market and developing economies in 2025.

(Percent, year over year)

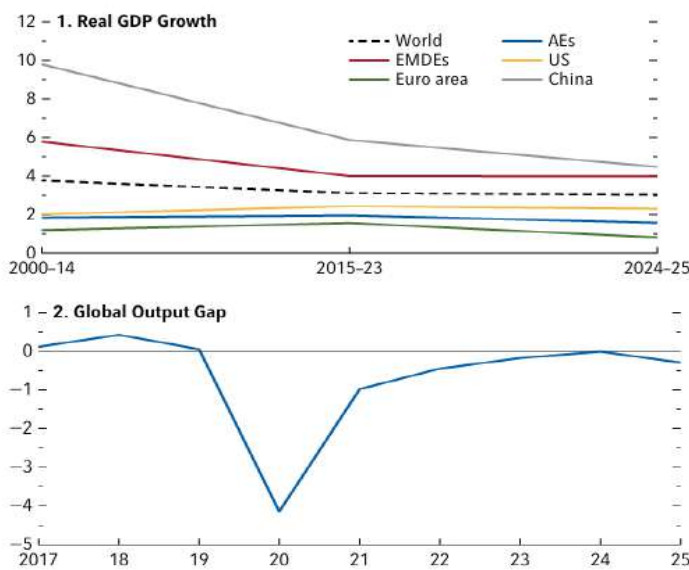

Sources: Haver Analytics; and IMF staff calculations.
Note: Panels 1 and 2 plot the median of a sample of 57 economies that accounts for 78 percent of World Economic Outlook world GDP (in weighted purchasing-power-parity terms) in 2024. Vertical axes are cut off at -2 percent and 12 percent. The bands depict the 25th to 75th percentiles of data across economies. "Core inflation" is the percent change in the consumer price index for goods and services, excluding food and energy (or the closest available measure). AEs = advanced economies; EMDEs = emerging market and developing economies.

Intensifying downside risks dominate the outlook. Ratcheting up a trade war, along with even more elevated trade policy uncertainty, could further reduce near- and long-term growth, while eroded policy buffers weaken resilience to future shocks. Divergent and rapidly shifting policy stances or deteriorating sentiment could trigger additional repricing of assets beyond what took place after the announcement of sweeping US tariffs on April 2 and sharp adjustments in foreign exchange rates and capital flows, especially for economies already facing debt distress. Broader financial instability may ensue, including damage to the international monetary system. Demographic shifts and a shrinking foreign labor force may curb potential growth and threaten fiscal sustainability. The lingering effects of the recent cost-of-living crisis, coupled with depleted policy space and dim medium-term growth prospects, could reignite social unrest. The resilience shown by many large emerging market economies may be tested as servicing high debt levels becomes more challenging in unfavorable global financial conditions. More limited international development assistance may increase the pressure on low-income countries, pushing them deeper into debt or necessitating significant fiscal adjustments, with immediate consequences for growth and living standards. On the upside, a de-escalation from current tariff rates and new agreements providing clarity and stability in trade policies could lift global growth. The global economy is at a critical juncture. Signs of stabilization were emerging through much of 2024, after a prolonged and challenging period of unprecedented shocks. Inflation, down from multi decade highs, followed a gradual though bumpy decline toward central bank targets (Figure 1.1).

Labor markets normalized, with unemployment and vacancy rates returning to pre-pandemic levels (Figure 1.2). Growth hovered around 3 percent in the past few years, and global output came close to potential (Figure 1.3).

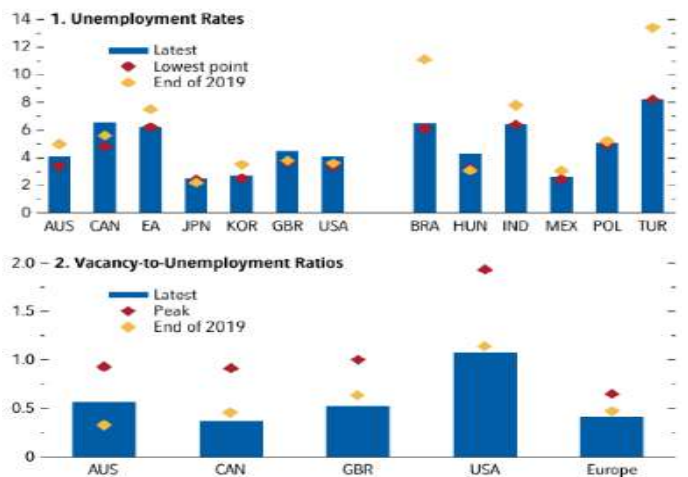

Recent data on real activity have been disappointing, with GDP growth in the fourth quarter of 2024 trailing the forecasts in the January 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO) Update. High-frequency indicators such as retail sales and purchasing managers' surveys point to slowing growth. In the United States, consumer, business, and investor sentiment was optimistic at the beginning of the year but has recently shifted to a notably more pessimistic stance as uncertainty has taken hold and new tariffs have been announced. In labor markets, hiring has slowed in many countries, and layoffs have risen. Meanwhile, progress on disinflation has mostly stalled, and inflation has edged upward in some cases, with an increasing number of countries exceeding their inflation targets. Services inflation, though still on a downward trend, remains above levels prior to the inflation surge, and core goods inflation has seen an uptick since November 2024. Trade has held up, but this is mostly because of an increase in Chinese exports and US imports at the end of 2024, with consumers and businesses likely front-loading ahead of tariffs that were anticipated back then and now are in place.

Domestic imbalances and policy gaps give rise to unbalanced growth while opening up potential fragilities. In some countries, such as China, growth in 2024 has been mainly supported by external demand. On the contrary, in the United States, private consumption—traditionally the major contributor to GDP growth—as a share of GDP has reached its highest point during the 2020s, and the fiscal deficit remains historically large.

Most countries are not fully back to their inflation targets yet, but output gaps are more dispersed. In quite a few cases, fiscal policy remains accommodative even as monetary policy maintains a restrictive stance. The US economy was operating above its potential in 2024, relying heavily on strong domestic demand. Private consumption grew at an annual rate of 2.8 percent in 2024, in excess of its 2.4 percent historical (2000–19) average. However, in 2025, signs of a potential reversal have emerged. Consumer spending declined by 0.6 percent in January and remained subdued in February after expanding by 0.6 percent in December 2024, with the decrease likely reflecting a normalization of private consumption toward more sustainable levels and the negative impact of recurring policy shifts on economic sentiment. This signals a deterioration of the cyclical position of the US economy. The euro area has been in a cyclical rebound, but domestic demand has been subdued and, with the exception of Germany, the contribution of consumption growth may have peaked in its largest economies. Weak consumer sentiment and elevated uncertainty have raised precautionary saving while weighing down consumption growth (October 2024 Regional Economic Outlook: Europe). Manufacturing activity has remained weak on the back of persistently higher energy prices, while services have been the main growth driver, contributing to divergence among European countries, particularly those relying more heavily on these sectors, notably Germany versus Spain. For China, prolonged weakness in the real estate sector and its ramifications, including those for local government finances, have been key. When the pandemic seized the Chinese economy, signs of a downturn in the credit-fueled property market were gathering. This homegrown vulnerability has depressed domestic demand, even as policymakers have searched for measures to tackle property market oversupply and bolster confidence. Indeed, consumer confidence in China, after a decade of moving closely with that in the rest of the world, plunged in early 2022 and has not recovered. Rising trade tensions and new tariffs over the past years have also disproportionately affected the Chinese economy. The rebalancing of growth drivers from investment and net exports toward consumption has paused amid continuing deflationary pressures and high household saving. Construction and real estate activity remains subdued, whereas industry, trade, and transport have been robust.

The swift escalation of trade tensions has generated extremely high levels of policy ambiguity, making it more difficult than usual to establish a central global growth outlook. Therefore, this WEO presents a range of global growth projections. First is a “reference fore cast” based on measures announced as of April 4. This is what is presented in the tables of this report and the WEO database. Second, a pre–April 2 forecast (with a cutoff date of late March) incorporates all prior policy announcements and economic developments since the October 2024 WEO. Third, a post–April 9 model-based forecast is used to quantify the implications of the announced pause and associated additional exemptions, as well as the escalating tariff rates between China and the United States.

Indian Macro Introduction:

Strong economic growth in the first quarter of FY23 helped India overcome the UK to become the fifth-largest economy after it recovered from the COVID-19 pandemic shock. Nominal GDP for FY25 is estimated at US$ 3.8 trillion with growth rate of 9.9%, compared to US$ 3.5 trillion in FY24. Strong domestic demand for consumption and investment, along with Government’s continued emphasis on capital expenditure are seen as among the key driver of the GDP in the second half of FY25. In FY25, India’s exports stood at Rs. 37.31 lakh crore (US$ 433.56 billion), with Engineering Goods (26.88%), Petroleum Products (13.86%) and electronic goods (8.89%) being the top three exported commodity. Rising employment and increasing private consumption, supported by rising consumer sentiment, will support GDP growth in the coming months.

Future capital spending of the government in the economy is expected to be supported by factors such as tax buoyancy, the streamlined tax system with low rates, a thorough assessment and rationalisation of the tariff structure, and the digitization of tax filing.

In the medium run, increased capital spending on infrastructure and asset-building projects is set to increase growth multipliers. The contact-based services sector has demonstrated promise to boost growth by unleashing the pent-up demand. The sector's success is being captured by a number of HFIs (High-Frequency Indicators) that are performing well, indicating the beginnings of a comeback.

India has emerged as the fastest-growing major economy in the world and is expected to be one of the top three economic powers in the world over the next 10-15 years, backed by its robust democracy and strong partnerships.

India's appeal as a destination for investments has grown stronger and more sustainable because of the current period of global unpredictability and volatility, and the record amounts of money raised by India-focused funds in 2022 are evidence of investor faith in the "Invest in India" narrative.

Market Size:

Real GDP for FY25 is estimated at Rs. 187.95 lakh crores (US$ 2.2 trillion) with growth rate of 6.5%, compared to Rs. 176.51 lakh crore (US$ 2.06 trillion) for FY24. As on Jan 2025, there are 118 unicorn startups in India, with a combined valuation of over Rs. 3.0 lakh crore (US$ 354 billion).

According to the McKinsey Global Institute, India needs to boost its rate of employment growth and create 90 million non-farm jobs between 2023 to 2030 in order to increase productivity and economic growth. The net employment rate needs to grow by 1.5% per annum from 2023 to 2030 to achieve 8-8.5% GDP growth between same time periods. The Current Account Deficit (CAD) stood at Rs. 98,095 crore (US$ 11.5 billion) for Q3 of FY25 as compared to Rs. 88,712 crore (US$ 10.4 billion) in Q3 of FY24. This was largely due to increase in merchandise trade deficit.

Exports fared remarkably well during the pandemic and aided recovery when all other growth engines were losing steam in terms of their contribution to GDP. Going forward, the contribution of merchandise exports may waver as several of India's trade partners witness an economic slowdown. According to Minister of Commerce and Industry, Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution and Textiles Mr. Piyush Goyal, Indian exports are expected to reach US$ 1 trillion by 2030.

Recent Developments:

India is primarily a domestic demand-driven economy, with consumption and investments contributing to 70% of the economic activity. With an improvement in the economic scenario and the Indian economy recovering from the Covid-19 pandemic shock, several investments and developments have been made across various sectors of the economy. According to World Bank, India must continue to prioritise lowering inequality while also putting growth-oriented policies into place to boost the economy. In view of this, there have been some developments that have taken place in the recent past. Some of them are mentioned below.

- The HSBC India Manufacturing PMI increased to 58.4 in April 2025, up from 58.1 in March 2025, based on preliminary estimates. This rise signifies improved operating conditions and represents the most rapid growth pace observed in the past year. Contributing factors include a notable surge in new export orders, which experienced their most significant increase in over fifteen years, alongside a faster expansion in overall new business activity.
- In Q1 CY25, private equity (PE) and venture capital (VC) investments stood at Rs. 1,16,861 crore (US$ 13.7 billion) across 284 deals.
- India saw a robust 10.35% growth in passengers carried by domestic airlines at 431.98 lakh in FY25, from 391.46 lakh in FY24, according to the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).
- As of April 18, 2025, India's foreign exchange reserves stood at Rs. 58,57,537 crore (US$ 686.70 billion).
- India secured 39th position out of 133 economies in the Global Innovation Index 2024. India rose from 81st position in 2015 to 39th position in 2024. India ranks 3rd position in the global number of scientific publications.
- The gross GST (Goods and Services Tax) revenue collection stood at Rs. 1.84 lakh crore (US$ 21.57 billion) in February 2025.
- Between April 2000–December 2024, cumulative FDI equity inflows to India stood at Rs. 89.88 lakh crore (US$ 1.05 trillion).
- In February 2025, the overall IIP (Index of Industrial Production) stood at 151.3. The Indices of Industrial Production for the mining, manufacturing and electricity sectors stood at 141.9, 148.6 and 194.0, respectively.

- According to data released by the Ministry of Statistics & Programme Implementation (MoSPI), India's Consumer Price Index (CPI) – Combined inflation was 3.34% in March 2025 against 4.85% in March 2024.
- Foreign Institutional Investors (FII) inflows in FY25 were close to Rs. 1.27 lakh crore (US$ 14.89 billion), while Domestic Institutional Investors (DII) bought Rs. 6.00 lakh crore (US$ 70.34 billion) in the same period.
- India's wheat procurement rose 34% YoY, reaching 22.36 MT as of April 28, 2025, with target of 31 MT in sight. Strong MSP, bonuses, and robust crop output boost sales to government agencies, ensuring food security and potential for open market intervention.

Government Initiatives:

Over the years, the Indian government has introduced many initiatives to strengthen the nation's economy. The Indian government has been effective in developing policies and programmes that are not only beneficial for citizens to improve their financial stability but also for the overall growth of the economy. Over recent decades, India's rapid economic growth has led to a substantial increase in its demand for exports. Besides this, a number of the government's flagship programmes, including Make in India, Start-up India, Digital India, the Smart City Mission, and the Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation, is aimed at creating immense opportunities in India. In this regard, some of the initiatives taken by the government to improve the economic condition of the country are mentioned below:

- According to a report by Wood Mackenzie in January 2025, India, the United States, and West Asia are expected to collectively add 100 Gigawatts (GW) of solar capacity by 2025, while China is anticipated to continue its leadership in the solar industry.
- In July 2024, the Ministry of Finance held the Union Budget and announced that for 2024-25, the total receipts other than borrowings and the total expenditure are estimated at Rs. 32.07 lakh crore (US$ 383.93 billion) and Rs. 48.21 lakh crore (US$ 577.16 billion), respectively.
- In February 2024, the Finance Ministry announced the total expenditure in Interim 2024-25 estimated at Rs. 47,65,768 crore (US$ 571.64 billion) of which total capital expenditure is Rs. 11,11,111 crore (US$ 133.27 billion).
- On January 22, 2024, Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi announced the 'Pradhan Mantri Suryodaya Yojana'. Under this scheme, 1 crore households will receive rooftop solar installations.
- On September 17, 2023, Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi launched the Central Sector Scheme PM-VISHWAKARMA in New Delhi. The new scheme aims to provide recognition and comprehensive support to traditional artisans & craftsmen who work with their hands and basic tools. This initiative is designed to enhance the quality, scale, and reach of their products, as well as to integrate them with MSME value chains.
- On August 6, 2023, Amrit Bharat Station Scheme was launched to transform and revitalize 1309 railway stations across the nation. This scheme envisages development of stations on a continuous basis with a long-term vision.
- On June 28, 2023, the Ministry of Environment, Forests, and Climate Change introduced the 'Draft Carbon Credit Trading Scheme, 2023'.
- From April 1, 2023, Foreign Trade Policy 2023 was unveiled to create an enabling ecosystem to support the philosophy of 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat' and 'Local goes Global'.
- To enhance India's manufacturing capabilities by increasing investment and production in the sector, the government of India has introduced the Production Linked Incentive Scheme (PLI) for Pharmaceuticals.
- Prime Minister's Development Initiative for North-East Region (PM-DevINE) was announced in the Union Budget 2022-23 with a financial outlay of Rs. 1,500 crore (US$ 182.35 million).
- Prime Minister Mr Narendra Modi has inaugurated a new food security scheme for providing free food grains to Antyodaya Ann Yojna (AAY) & Primary Household (PHH) beneficiaries, called Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Ann Yojana (PMGKAY) from January 1, 2023.

Road Ahead:

India's economy grew by 6.2% in Q3 FY25. Signs of recovery are now visible, with growth expected to rise to 7.6% in Q4 FY25—indicating a possible turnaround in the coming months. India's comparatively strong position in the external sector reflects the country's positive outlook for economic growth and rising employment rates. India ranked 5th in foreign direct investment inflows among the developed and developing nations listed for the first quarter of 2022.

India's economic story during the first half of FY24 highlighted the unwavering support the government gave to its capital expenditure, which, in FY24, stood 37.4% higher than the same period last year. In the Union Budget of FY26, capital expenditure took lead by steeply increasing the capital expenditure outlay by 10.0 % to Rs. 11.21 lakh crore (US$ 131.42 billion) over Rs. 10.18 lakh crore (US$ 119.34 billion) in FY25. Stronger revenue generation because of improved tax compliance, increased profitability of the company, and increasing economic activity also contributed to rising capital spending levels.

India's total exports of goods and services rose by 5.5% to a record Rs. 69.8 lakh crore (US$ 820.9 billion) in FY25, compared to Rs. 65.8 lakh crore (US$ 773.0 billion) in FY24.

With a reduction in port congestion, supply networks are being restored. With a proactive set of administrative actions by the government, flexible monetary policy, and a softening of global commodity prices and supply-chain bottlenecks, inflationary pressures in India look to be on the decline overall.

(Source: IBEF)

Source - Reserve Bank of India

The Reserve Bank of India has projected real GDP growth at 6.5 per cent for 2025-26, maintaining the same rate as estimated for 2024-25, following a strong expansion of 9.2 per cent in the preceding year. The quarterly projections stand at 6.5 per cent in Q1, 6.7 per cent in Q2, 6.6 per cent in Q3, and 6.3 per cent in Q4. This marks a downward revision of 20 basis points from the February estimate, reflecting heightened global volatility. Agriculture remains on a positive footing, supported by healthy reservoir levels and robust crop production, which is expected to sustain rural demand. Manufacturing is showing early signs of revival amid improved business sentiment, and the services sector continues to demonstrate resilience.

On the investment side, activity is gaining pace on the back of higher capacity utilisation, continued government focus on infrastructure, and strong balance sheets of banks and corporates. Easing financial conditions have also aided this recovery. While services exports are likely to remain steady, merchandise exports could face headwinds from global uncertainties and trade disruptions. Looking ahead, the RBI has projected real GDP growth at 6.7 per cent for 2026-27, suggesting continued recovery momentum.

Headline inflation eased during January and February 2025, driven by a sharp decline in food prices. With uncertainties around the rabi crop largely resolved, and second advance estimates indicating record wheat output and higher pulse production than last year, food inflation is expected to soften further. This favourable trend is supported by robust kharif arrivals and a sharp fall in inflation expectations over the next three and twelve months, as reflected in recent surveys. The decline in crude oil prices has further strengthened the disinflationary outlook. Accordingly, Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation for 2025–26 is projected at 4.0 per cent, with quarterly estimates at 3.6 per cent in Q1, 3.9 per cent in Q2, 3.8 per cent in Q3, and 4.4 per cent in Q4.

While the inflation outlook appears stable, global uncertainties and the possibility of weather-related supply shocks continue to pose upside risks to the inflation path. The Reserve Bank of India has assumed a normal monsoon in framing its projections, and it considers the risks to be evenly balanced at this stage.

External Sector Snapshot

- Robust Services and Remittances: Services exports remained strong in January–February 2025, led by software, business, and transportation services. Net services and remittance receipts are expected to remain in large surplus, cushioning the merchandise trade deficit.
- Sustainable Current Account Deficit: The current account deficit (CAD) for both 2024–25 and 2025–26 is projected to stay well within sustainable levels, supported by resilient external inflows.
- Mixed Investment Flows: While gross FDI remained strong due to stable macroeconomic fundamentals, net FDI moderated because of higher repatriations and outward investments. Net FPI inflows touched USD 1.7 billion in 2024–25, driven by debt inflows despite equity outflows.
- Healthy Forex Reserves: As of April 4, 2025, India’s foreign exchange reserves stood at USD 676.3 billion, offering an import cover of nearly 11 months and reflecting the strength of the external sector.

Liquidity and Financial Market Conditions

- Liquidity Shortage and RBI Intervention: In January 2025, the banking system faced a shortage of funds, known as a liquidity deficit. To address this, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) provided up to ₹3.1 lakh crore on 23rd January through the Liquidity Adjustment Facility (LAF) – a tool that allows banks to borrow money from the RBI for short periods to manage temporary mismatches in cash flow.
- Improved Liquidity Position: The RBI later infused about ₹6.9 lakh crore into the system, and increased government spending in late March helped further. These actions improved the situation, and by 7th April 2025, the system had a liquidity surplus of ₹1.5 lakh crore – meaning there was more money available in banks for lending and investment.
- Softening of Market Rates: With more liquidity available, the Weighted Average Call Rate (WACR) – the average interest rate at which banks lend to each other overnight – declined and hovered close to the repo rate, which is the interest rate at which the RBI lends money to commercial banks. This indicates stable short-term borrowing costs.
- Lower Funding Costs in Debt Market: The difference between interest rates on Commercial Papers (CPs) and Certificates of Deposit (CDs) – short-term borrowing instruments used by companies and banks – and the 91-day Treasury Bill – a short-term government security – reduced. This narrowing of spreads means that borrowing became cheaper in financial markets. The RBI has stated it will continue to monitor these conditions and take action as needed to maintain sufficient liquidity.

Indian Textile Industry:

India’s textiles sector is one of the oldest industries in the Indian economy, dating back to several centuries. The industry is extremely varied, with hand-spun and hand-woven textiles sectors at one end of the spectrum, with the capital-intensive sophisticated mills sector at the other end. The fundamental strength of the textile industry in India is its strong production base of a wide range of fibre/yarns from natural fibres like cotton, jute, silk, and wool, to synthetic/man-made fibres like polyester, viscose, nylon and acrylic.

The decentralised power looms/ hosiery and knitting sector form the largest component of the textiles sector. The close linkage of textiles industry to agriculture (for raw materials such as cotton) and the ancient culture and traditions of the country in terms of textiles makes it unique in comparison to other industries in the country. India’s textiles industry has a capacity to produce a wide variety of products suitable for different market segments, both within India and across the world.

According to a top credit rating agency, the organised retail apparel sector is projected to achieve revenue growth of 8-10% in FY25, driven by rising demand from a normal monsoon, easing inflation, and the festive and wedding seasons.

The increasing preference for affordable, trendy fashion clothing that mimics high-fashion designs is expected to be the primary revenue driver. In order to attract private equity and employ more people, the government introduced various schemes such as the Scheme for Integrated Textile Parks (SITP), Technology Upgradation Fund Scheme (TUFS) and Mega Integrated Textile Region and Apparel (MITRA) Park scheme.

(Source: IBEF)

The textile and apparel industry contributes 2.3% to our GDP, 13% to industrial production, and 12% to exports. India exported textile items worth US$ 34.4 billion in 2023-24, with apparel constituting 42% of the export basket, followed by raw materials/semi-finished materials at 34% and finished non-apparel goods at 30%. It is also the second largest employment generators, after agriculture, with over 45 million people employed directly, including many women and the rural population. As further evidence of the inclusive nature of this industry, nearly 80% of its capacity is spread across Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) clusters in the country.

The sector also has perfect alignment with the Government's overall objectives of Make in India, Skill India, Women's Empowerment, Rural Youth Employment and inclusive growth. The industry produces about 22,000 million pieces of garments per year, with the market size projected to reach US$ 350 billion by 2030, from the current $174 billion.

(Source: PIB)

Market Size:

The market for Indian textiles and apparel is projected to grow at a 10% CAGR to reach US$ 350 billion by 2030. Moreover, India is the world's 3rd largest exporter of Textiles and Apparel. India ranks among the top five global exporters in several textile categories, with exports expected to reach US$100 billion.

Textile manufacturing in India has been steadily recovering amid the pandemic. The manufacturing of textiles Index for the month of June 2024 is 106.

Global apparel market is expected to grow at a CAGR of around 8% to reach US$ 2.37 trillion by 2030 and the Global Textile & Apparel trade is expected to grow at a CAGR of 4% to reach US$ 1.2 trillion by 2030. India's home textile industry is expected to expand at a CAGR of 8.9% during 2023-32 and reached US$ 23.32 billion in 2032 from US$ 10.78 billion in 2023.

The Indian Technical Textile market has a huge potential of a 10% growth rate, increased penetration level of 9-10% and is the 5th largest technical textiles market in the world. India's sportech industry is estimated around US$ 1.17 billion in 2022-23.

India's textile industry is on the brink of expansion, with total textile export projected to reach US$ 65 billion by FY26.

India saw a 36.4% increase in industrial design applications, particularly in textiles, accessories, tools, machines, health, and cosmetics. Total FDI inflows in the textiles sector stood at US$ 4.56 billion between April 2000 - September 2024.

Government Initiatives:

- The Indian government has come up with several export promotion policies for the textile sector. It has also allowed 100% FDI in the sector under the automatic route.
- Secretary of the Ministry of Textiles, Ms. Rachna Shah, announced that India's technical textiles market has great potential, with a notable growth rate of 10% and ranking as the 5th largest in the world.
- A tripartite Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed by the Textiles Committee under the Ministry of Textiles, the Government e-Marketplace (GeM) under the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and the Standing Conference of Public Enterprises (SCOPE) to promote upcycled products made from textile waste and scrap.
- In June 2023, the Government approved R&D projects worth US$ 7.4 million (Rs. 61.09 crore) in the textile sector.
- In February 2023, according to the Union Budget 2023-24, the total allocation for the textile sector was Rs. 4,389.24 crore (US$ 536.4 million). Out of this, Rs. 900 crore (US$ 109.99 million) is for Amended Technology Upgradation Fund Scheme (ATUFS), Rs. 450 crore (US$ 54.99 million) for National Technical Textiles Mission, and Rs. 60 crore (US$ 7.33 million) for Integrated Processing Development Scheme.

- Ministry of Textiles has sanctioned 19 research projects totalling approximately Rs. 21 crore (US$ 2.52 million) across various domains of Technical Textiles under the National Technical Textiles Mission.
- The Textile Ministry's allocation increases by 19%, rising from Rs. 4,417.03 crore (US$ 512 million) in 2024–25 to Rs. 5,272 crore (US$ 611 million) in 2025–26, reflecting the government's commitment to addressing long-standing challenges and unlocking new growth opportunities.
- In August 2023, the Ministry of Textiles approved 26 engineering institutions for the introduction of Technical Textiles under the National Technical Textiles Mission.
- Defense Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) is helping the Indian textile industry to produce yarns and eliminate dependence on import of Chinese and other foreign clothing for military uniforms.

M. Strengths of our company

1. Vertically Integrated Manufacturing Operations

Madhur Knit Crafts Limited operates a fully integrated manufacturing facility that brings together all major textile processing stages, knitting, dyeing, printing, stentering, brushing, raising, and finishing, within a single production hub. This integrated setup allows our Company to manage the manufacturing process in-house, reducing dependency on external vendors, supporting production timelines, and enabling customization for made-to-order and technical textile products.

2. Advanced Machinery and Infrastructure

Our Company has strategically invested in state-of-the-art, high-speed textile machinery imported from technologically advanced countries such as Germany, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, and China. These include circular knitting machines, high-pressure dyeing units, flatbed and rotary printers, stenter machines, and chemical coating units. This equipment supports mass production and the manufacture of textile products for specific performance requirements. The built-up manufacturing area of over 300,000 square feet ensures scalable operations, optimal layout planning, and high throughput efficiency.

3. Strategic Location Advantage

Situated in Ludhiana, Punjab, one of India’s most prominent textile and hosiery hubs, Madhur Knit Crafts benefits from easy access to raw material suppliers, skilled labor, ancillary industries, and efficient logistics infrastructure. The proximity to local yarn distributors allows for just-in-time procurement, reduced lead times, and lower freight costs. Being located in a textile cluster provides access to local industry resources, vendor relationships, and market information.

4. Diversified Product Portfolio

Our Company’s product range spans multiple textile categories including mink, woolen, fleece, and flannel blankets; knitted winterwear fabrics; and garment.. This diversification allows Madhur Knit Crafts to address both consumer and industrial markets, spread risk across multiple revenue streams, and respond flexibly to changing seasonal or economic conditions. The addition of technical textiles expands our Company’s presence into an industrial segment with growing demand.

5. Order-Based and Demand-Driven Production Model

Our Company follows a made-to-order production strategy, wherein manufacturing is initiated only upon receipt of confirmed customer orders. This approach minimizes overproduction and avoids excess inventory, leading to efficient use of raw materials and optimized working capital deployment. The alignment of procurement and production with actual market demand ensures high resource utilization and better financial control, particularly during peak or seasonal cycles.

6. Robust Supplier and Distribution Network

Madhur Knit Crafts has cultivated a strong supplier base within Ludhiana and other textile-producing states, enabling consistent access to high-quality yarn and greige fabric. On the distribution side, our Company maintains a broad B2B network of dealers, wholesalers, and institutional. A limited retail footprint for finished products like blankets further enhances market coverage. This dual-channel structure ensures wide geographical reach and revenue diversification.

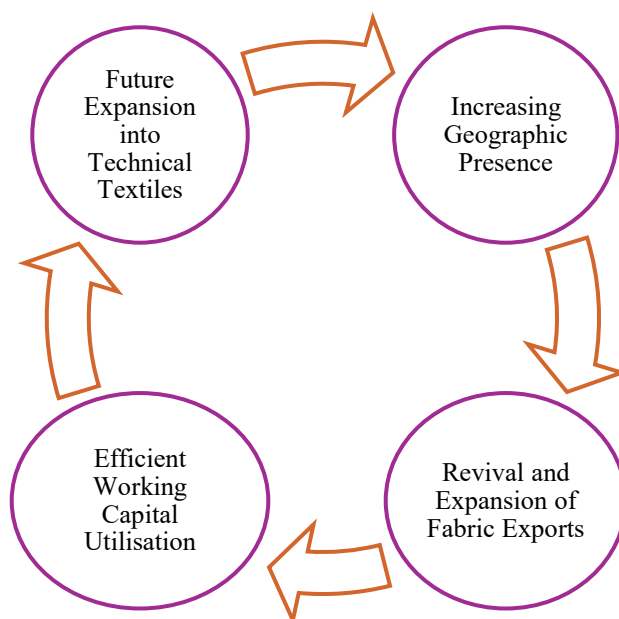

7. Experienced Promoters and Skilled Workforce

Our Company is promoted and led by Mr. Arun Gupta and his family, who bring decades of industry experience and strategic vision. Their long-standing presence in the textile sector has enabled our Company to establish strong vendor, distributor, and customer relationships. N. Strategies of our company

1. Future Expansion into Technical Textiles to Boost Sales Volume

Our Company is pursuing expansion into the technical textiles segment, which caters to industrial applications and offers higher margin potential compared to traditional textile products. We aim to serve end-use sectors such as automotive, construction, home improvement, and healthcare, where demand for advanced performance fabrics is growing.

To support this diversification, our Company is investing in specialized machinery, chemical processing capabilities, and R&D, enabling the development of engineered textiles with properties such as high tensile strength, chemical resistance, thermal stability, and moisture control. This initiative is expected to enhance capacity utilization and strengthen our presence in both domestic and international markets.

While we have already ventured into technical textiles, including paint roller fabrics that require precision processes like chemical coating and lamination, the contribution from this segment remains limited at present. Our core operations continue to be driven by consumer textile products, with technical textiles representing a strategic growth avenue for the future.

2. Increasing Geographical Presence

As part of its long-term growth roadmap, Madhur Knit Crafts Limited intends to expand its market footprint across new domestic territories and global regions. The Company actively participates in trade fairs in the southern parts of India and seeks to further strengthen and broaden its presence in this region. To achieve this, the Company plans to actively target under-penetrated domestic markets through regional expansion of its B2B business network, and localized marketing initiatives. As part of this strategy, the Company also intends to introduce and sell its knitted apparel products more extensively in these southern markets.

3. Revival and Expansion of Fabric Exports

Recognizing the opportunity in global textile demand, Madhur Knit Crafts is strategically focused on reviving and expanding its fabric export operations. Our Company plans to allocate resources toward brand repositioning, export-specific marketing campaigns, and compliance readiness for international buyers. Key initiatives include enhancing customer service for overseas clients, optimizing lead times through efficient supply chain management, and building scalable distribution networks in export markets. By aligning with applicable quality standards and offering customized products, our Company intends to increase its presence in international trade.

4. Efficient Working Capital Utilisation to Avail Supplier Discounts

To enhance financial efficiency and improve supplier relationships, Madhur Knit Crafts Limited plans to optimize working capital utilization, particularly for yarn procurement. By ensuring faster turnaround of supplier payments, especially upfront payments, our Company becomes eligible for early payment discounts offered by vendors which shall reduce raw material costs, maintain procurement consistency, and support production schedules.

d. Details about raw material procurement

Procurement Process for Yarn

Our company's operations commence with the procurement of yarn, the principal raw material used across our manufacturing verticals. Our Company is located in Ludhiana, a hub for winter and semi-winter textile products, which facilitates sourcing. The region offers a well-developed ecosystem for yarn trading, enabling easy access to quality raw materials and ensuring smooth procurement operations with minimal lead times or supply disruptions. Rather than relying on a single vendor, we have established a diversified supplier base, which enhances our operational resilience, especially during peak production periods. This multi-supplier model also strengthens our bargaining position and allows for flexible procurement volumes based on order flow.

To further optimize resource utilization, our procurement strategy is closely aligned with an order-based production system. Yarn purchases are initiated only upon the receipt of confirmed customer orders, ensuring raw material intake is directly tied to actual production requirements. This just-in-time approach minimizes excess inventory, reduces storage overhead, and improves working capital efficiency. By integrating procurement planning with production schedules, we are able to maintain tight control over input costs while supporting our Company's broader goals of financial discipline and operational agility.

1. Order-Based Requirement Identification

Yarn procurement is initiated only upon receipt of confirmed customer orders. The production planning team analyses the order specifications, including fabric type, blend, weight, and colour to determine the precise yarn requirements. This ensures alignment between procurement and production, eliminating the need for surplus inventory and reducing working capital deployment.

2. Supplier Coordination

Once requirements are finalized, the procurement team engages with a network of pre-approved local yarn distributors based in Ludhiana. These vendors are selected based on their reliability, quality consistency, and responsiveness. The team obtains quotations, checks for availability, and negotiates commercial terms where necessary.

3. Quality Assessment

For new suppliers or yarns with specialized specifications, sample lots are requested for thorough technical evaluation. These samples are tested against critical parameters including tensile strength, colorfastness, uniformity, and compatibility with the designated knitting process. Only materials that meet our Company's stringent quality standards are approved for procurement. In cases where the yarn does not meet the required criteria, it is formally returned to the supplier.

4. Purchase Order Placement

Following supplier selection and quality approval (if applicable), a formal purchase order is issued. This document outlines detailed specifications, quantities, agreed rates, delivery timelines, and payment terms. The purchase order also serves as a contractual agreement, ensuring transparency and accountability.

5. Inbound Logistics & Delivery

The logistics team coordinates with suppliers to ensure timely dispatch and delivery of yarn to our Company's manufacturing facility. Deliveries are scheduled in alignment with the production timeline to maintain smooth workflow continuity and prevent bottlenecks.

6. Material Verification

Upon arrival at the plant, the yarn undergoes a comprehensive quality check and verification process. The incoming material is inspected for conformity with the order specifications and approved sample standards. Batches that meet the required criteria are cleared for immediate use in production. However, if the yarn fails to meet the quality standards, it is rejected and returned to the supplier, with discrepancies duly reported and addressed.

Q. Manufacturing Process

Manufacturing Process for Anti Pilling Fabrics

Step 1: Knitting

The process begins with knitting, where yarns are interlooped using circular or flat knitting machines to create fabric. This knitted fabric serves as the base material for further processing. The choice of yarn and knitting technique significantly influences the fabric's texture, strength, and stretch.

Step 2: Heat Setting

In this step, the knitted fabric is subjected to controlled heat in a stenter machine. Heat setting stabilizes the fabric dimensions, reduces shrinkage, and prepares the fabric structure for improved chemical absorption in later stages. It also helps reduce fabric distortion and curling, especially in synthetic and blended fibers.

Step 3: Sueding

The fabric undergoes sueding (also called peach finishing), where fine abrasive rollers gently brush the surface to raise short fibers, creating a soft, velvety texture. This enhances fabric comfort and appearance, and also improves the anchoring of antipilling agents applied later.

Step 4: Antipilling Chemical Coating

At this stage, the fabric is treated with antipilling agents, usually polymers or resins, that form a thin protective layer on fiber surfaces. These chemicals bind loose fibers and reduce the tendency of fibers to break and form pills when exposed to friction or abrasion during use.

Step 5: Drying

After coating, the fabric passes through a drying chamber (usually within the stenter or a separate dryer) to cure the antipilling treatment and remove moisture. Proper drying ensures that the chemical finishes bond securely with the fibers for lasting effectiveness.

Step 6: Compaction

The dried fabric is compacted using a compactor machine to control shrinkage and bring the fabric to the desired final width and thickness. This step also improves the fabric's feel and dimensional stability, ensuring increased consistency in the finished textile product.

Step 7: Quality Check & Finishing

The final fabric undergoes a rigorous quality control inspection, where it is checked for surface smoothness, pilling resistance, color consistency, and physical properties like GSM and width. The finished antipilling fabric is then rolled, packaged, and made ready for shipment or further conversion (e.g., into garments or industrial products).

Manufacturing Process for Knitted Fabrics

Step 1: Knitting

Yarn is converted into fabric through interlooping using circular or flat knitting machines. This creates the base structure of the textile known as greige fabric.

Step 2: Dyeing

The greige fabric is dyed using desired colors in dyeing machines, ensuring uniform color penetration and shade consistency throughout the fabric roll.

Step 3: Hydro (Hydro-Extraction)

Post-dyeing, excess water is removed from the fabric using a hydro-extractor machine that uses centrifugal force to reduce moisture content before further processing.

Step 4: Poly Dyeing

This step involves additional dyeing specifically for polyester-blended fabrics, ensuring proper color fixation and durability in synthetic fibers.

Step 5: Packing & Dispatch

The finished fabric is inspected, folded or rolled, packed according to client requirements, and dispatched for delivery.

Manufacturing process of Sherpa:

Step 1: Knitting

The process begins with knitting yarn into fabric, which forms the foundational layer of Sherpa material. Knitting is performed using circular or warp knitting machines that interloop the yarn into a stretchy, soft, and breathable textile. This knitted base provides flexibility, comfort, and a slight natural stretch, which are essential for Sherpa's intended applications like warm clothing and home furnishings.

Step 2: Dyeing

After the fabric is knitted, it moves on to the dyeing stage, where it is infused with color as per the order specification. This involves immersing the fabric in dye solutions and treating it under controlled temperatures. Dyeing helps achieve uniform coloration and is tailored to customer needs, ranging from natural shades like beige or white to vibrant colors. Proper dyeing is crucial not only for appearance but also for color fastness, ensuring that the fabric does not bleed or fade with use.

Step 3: Stenter (First Time)

Once dyed, the fabric is passed through a stenter machine, which stretches the material to align it and sets its width and structure using heat. This thermal process stabilizes the fabric and helps maintain dimensional accuracy. Essentially, it "locks in" the fabric's shape, preventing unwanted shrinkage or distortion later during brushing or printing. This is an important pre-treatment before additional enhancements.

Step 4: Printing

In the next step, the fabric undergoes printing, where various patterns or textures are applied depending on the final product's design. Specialized printing machines are used to create detailed motifs, logos, or textures on the surface. This can range from simple solid prints to complex multi-color designs. For Sherpa, printing may also mimic the look of natural fleece or add visual appeal for fashion garments and accessories.

Step 5: Ager (Color Fixation)

After printing, the fabric is placed in an Ager machine, where it is steamed at high temperatures. The purpose of this step is to fix the dyes and pigments applied during printing into the fibers of the fabric. Steaming locks the color and design, fixes dyes onto the fabric to minimize color loss during washing, bleed, or wear off easily during further processing or in end-use.

Step 6: Stenter (Second Time)

Post-steaming, the fabric is again passed through a stenter. This second round ensures that any dimensional changes caused during printing and steaming are corrected. It further improves fabric stability, softens the texture, and prepares it for mechanical surface treatments like brushing and raising. Maintaining fabric width and shape at this stage is critical for uniform processing in the next steps.

Step 7: Brushing

The fabric now enters the brushing stage, where wire-covered rollers gently brush the surface to raise its fibers. This gives the Sherpa fabric its signature soft and fluffy feel, similar to fleece. The brushing enhances warmth and comfort by increasing the air-trapping capacity of the fabric. This tactile improvement is vital for Sherpa's application in winterwear and soft home textiles.

Step 8: Raising

Following brushing, raising machines lift the fibers even more intensively. This is done using rollers equipped with fine hooks that pull up fibers from the base fabric, creating a plush, deep-pile texture that mimics wool or sheepskin. Raising further boosts the thermal insulation and luxurious softness Sherpa is known for. It's one of the most defining processes in the entire manufacturing chain.

Step 9: Poly Cutting

At this point, any excess polyester filaments or uneven threads are trimmed off using poly cutting machines. This step refines the look of the fabric and removes excess filaments to prepare fabric for finishing. It also prepares the fabric for final finishing processes. By removing loose or hanging fibers, poly cutting improves both the visual appeal and the usability of the material.

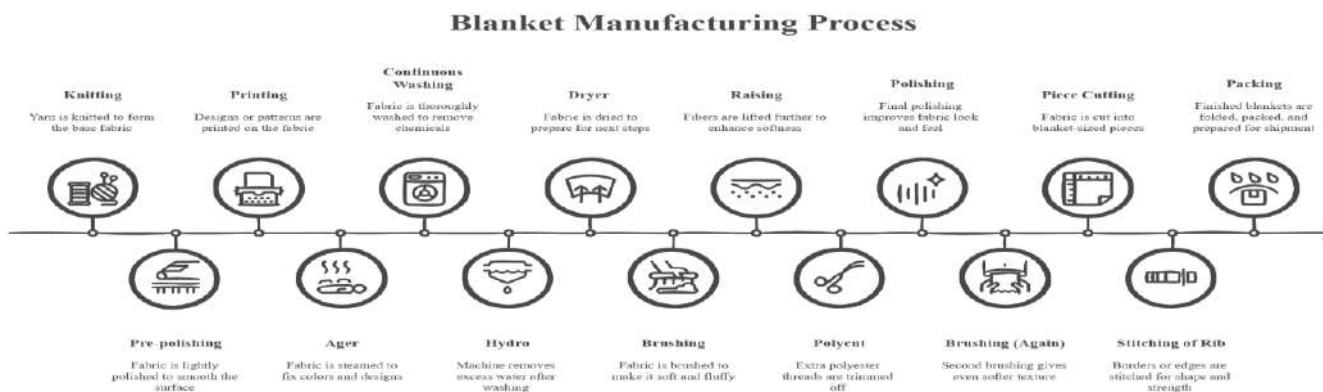

Step 10: Tumbler (Finishing)

The final process is tumbling, where the fabric is placed in a rotating machine to soften it even further. This mechanical action helps in relaxing the fibers, enhancing drape, and removing any remaining surface stiffness. It also completes the softening process for consistent texture. After tumbling, the Sherpa fabric is ready for dispatch, quality-checked, and packaged for shipment.

Step 11: Final Product Out for Dispatch

Once all the above steps are completed, the Sherpa fabric is rolled, labeled, and packed for delivery to customers. At this stage, the fabric is ready to be used in jackets, hoodies, baby blankets, home décor, and other cozy, warm products.

Manufacturing process of blankets:

Step 1: Knitting

The process begins with knitting yarn into a continuous sheet of fabric using circular or flat knitting machines. This knitted fabric forms the base structure of the blanket, offering flexibility and softness that are essential for comfort.

Step 2: Pre-Polishing

Before any printing or color work, the knitted fabric undergoes pre-polishing. This step helps in smoothing the surface by removing any minor inconsistencies, loose fibers, or roughness, which enhances the quality of subsequent printing and finishing.

Step 3: Printing

The fabric is then passed through high-speed textile printers where designs, patterns, or logos are applied using dyes or pigments. This could be done via screen printing or digital printing depending on the complexity and scale of the design.

Step 4: Ager (Color Fixation)

Once printed, the fabric goes into an Ager machine, a steam chamber that cures the dyes, helping them bond strongly to the fibers. This step ensures colorfastness, preventing colors from fading or washing out easily.

Step 5: Continuous Washing

After fixing the colors, the fabric is washed continuously to remove any excess dyes, chemicals, and impurities. This is done using a series of water baths and rollers to ensure thorough cleaning while maintaining fabric integrity.

Step 6: Hydro Extraction

In this stage, hydro machines extract moisture from the fabric at high speeds using centrifugal force. This step significantly reduces drying time and prepares the fabric for thermal drying.

Step 7: Drying

The partially dried fabric is then passed through hot air dryers or stenter machines to eliminate residual moisture. This ensures the fabric remains dimensionally stable and shrinkage is controlled.

Step 8: Brushing

The dried fabric is brushed using rotating wire rollers to lift the surface fibers, giving the blanket a soft, velvety texture. This enhances the tactile comfort and insulating quality of the fabric.

Step 9: Raising

This process is a deeper brushing step that lifts and fluffs up the fibers even further, increasing thickness, warmth, and a plush feel. It gives the blanket its cozy, luxurious texture.

Step 10: Polycut

During this stage, any unwanted polyester filaments or threads are precisely trimmed using blade machines. This step ensures the fabric looks clean and finished before the final touches.

Step 11: Polishing

A final polishing process smoothens the fabric further, enhancing its sheen, softness, and overall aesthetic appeal. This improves the blanket's appearance and visual finish.

Step 12: Brushing (Final Touch)

Another light brushing gives the fabric a uniform surface feel and adds extra softness. This step helps in achieving consistency in quality for consumer blankets.

Step 13: Piece Cutting

The polished and brushed fabric is now cut into specific sizes based on product requirements (single, double, king-size blankets, etc.) using precision cutting equipment.

Step 14: Stitching of Rib (Edge Finishing)

The edges of the cut pieces are finished with rib stitching or binding, usually with a contrasting or matching fabric strip. This not only enhances the appearance but also prevents fraying and increases durability.

Step 15: Packing

The finished blankets are carefully folded, quality-checked, labeled, and packed as per customer specifications (folded flat, rolled, vacuum-sealed, etc.) before being dispatched for delivery.

R. Distribution

Our Company employs a defined distribution model with planned dispatch procedures aimed at fulfilling both domestic and institutional demand across multiple textile segments. Our Company's distribution network is designed to ensure efficient movement of goods from factory to end-users while maintaining quality, lead time, and client satisfaction.

1. Purchase Order (PO) Raised by Client

The client issues a formal purchase order detailing product specifications, quantities, delivery timelines, and commercial terms.

2. Internal Order Verification & Acknowledgment

Our sales and planning team reviews the PO for technical feasibility, lead time alignment, and material availability. An order acknowledgment is sent to the client confirming acceptance.

3. Quality Control & Inspection

Before dispatch, every batch undergoes rigorous quality inspection to ensure it meets the client’s specifications and internal quality benchmarks.

4. Packing & Documentation

Finished goods are packed as per customer instructions (e.g., bale, roll, vacuum-sealed). Necessary documentation, like invoices, delivery challans, and for exports, customs and compliance paperwork, is prepared.

5. Dispatch & Logistics Coordination

The logistics team arranges transportation, using either in-house vehicles or third-party logistics providers, to ensure timely delivery. Tracking is shared with the customer where applicable.

6. Delivery Confirmation & Client Sign-off

Upon successful delivery, the customer acknowledges receipt, and the transaction is recorded for billing and reconciliation.

In addition to institutional and wholesale clients, Madhur Knit Crafts Limited also distributes its finished blanket products to retailers through a network of authorized dealers and regional distribution partners. These retail-focused channels enable our Company to cater to seasonal and mass-market consumer demand, particularly during peak winter months. Our Company uses its logistics setup and product availability to supply blankets to end consumers across multiple regions in line with its quality standards.

T. Competition

Our Company operates in a highly competitive textile industry, facing competition from both organised and unorganised players across India. Competitors offer similar products, including blankets, and knitted fabrics, with strengths in areas such as product quality, pricing, innovation, production efficiency, and timely delivery.

While some segments of the textile industry may have moderate entry barriers, manufacturing specialized products such as blankets, knitted fabrics with specific blends requires significant capital investment, technical expertise, and access to advanced machinery, making entry into these segments challenging. Madhur Knit Crafts Limited benefits from its extensive industry experience, diversified product portfolio, and strong supplier and customer networks, which provide a competitive advantage in these high-barrier segments.

Key factors influencing our Company's competitive position include the ability to consistently meet seasonal and functional requirements, maintain high-quality standards through advanced manufacturing processes, invest in technology and innovation, and ensure reliability in supply and service. Our Company's strategic location in Ludhiana, a major textile hub, further strengthens its access to raw materials, logistics, and skilled workforce, enabling it to maintain operational efficiency and sustain growth in a dynamic market environment.

U. Technology

The business operations of our Company are not technology intensive. Our Company's processes are based on conventional textile manufacturing methods, and technological improvements are primarily derived from the procurement and use of state-of-the-art machinery as and when installed.

At the operational level, we utilize basic technology tools for human resource management, accounting, and inventory control. For attendance and workforce monitoring, we use biometric punching machines installed. Our accounting and inventory functions are managed through Tally Prime Gold.

V. Research & Development

Our Company does not undertake proprietary research and development, and its technological gains are largely attributable to equipment upgrades and process optimization.

W. Utilities

Our Company's registered office is located at Village Seerha, Satowal Road Near, Meharban Police Station, Rahon Road, Ludhiana-141008.

Our office is well equipped with requisite facilities, infrastructure facilities, computer systems, servers and other communication equipment, uninterrupted power supply, internet connectivity, and other processing facility, which are required for our business operations to function smoothly.

Power & electricity

Madhur Knit Crafts Limited's manufacturing facility operates with a sanctioned load of 1,299.101 KW, meeting its power requirements primarily through electricity purchased from Punjab State Power Corporation Limited (PSPCL). The facility also utilizes boilers that is capable of generating and thermopac as integral components of its energy infrastructure. Boilers generate steam required for various manufacturing processes, including dyeing and finishing, while thermopac efficiently convert steam into thermal and mechanical energy to support plant operations. This integrated setup ensures a reliable and continuous supply of energy, optimizes fuel consumption, and contributes to efficient power management across the manufacturing facility.

Water

Water is an essential resource in our production process, used in cooling systems, curing processes, and to maintain optimal temperatures for machinery and moulds. Madhur Knit Crafts Limited has made adequate arrangements with Punjab Water Regulation and Development Authority to meet its water requirements efficiently. The Company operates an in-house Effluent Treatment Plant that treats wastewater generated during dyeing and processing to remove contaminants. The treated water is safely reused in select manufacturing processes and for supporting natural vegetation, reducing freshwater consumption and promoting sustainable water management. These practices demonstrate the Company's commitment to efficient water utilization and environmentally responsible operations.

INDUSTRY RELATED LAW

National Textile Policy, 2000

The National Textile Policy, 2000 ("NTP 2000") aims at facilitating the growth of the textile industry in order to attain and sustain a pre-eminent global standing in the manufacture and export of clothing. It also aims at equipping the textile industry with the ability to withstand pressure of import penetration and maintain dominant presence in the domestic market. The industry aims at developing a strong and vibrant textile industry that can produce quality products at acceptable prices. This objective is sought to be achieved by liberalising controls and regulations so that the different segments of the textile industry are enabled to perform in a greater competitive environment. Major thrust areas of NTP 2000 include technology upgradation, enhancement of productivity, increase in exports and innovating marketing strategies, product diversification along with quality consciousness, among others. Additionally, certain sector specific initiatives envisaged under the NTP 2000 include raw materials, clothing, export and knitting.

Textiles Committee Act, 1963

The Textiles Committee Act, 1963 was enacted to promote quality control, standardization, and research in the textile sector. The Act empowers the Textiles Committee, under the Ministry of Textiles, to carry out inspections, certification, and testing of textile products, including fabrics, garments, and technical textiles. It also undertakes research initiatives to improve production processes, enhance efficiency, and support innovation in textiles, thereby facilitating competitiveness in domestic and international markets.

National Technical Textiles Policy, 2020

The National Technical Textiles Policy, 2020, introduced by the Government of India, aims to promote the growth of technical textiles through research, innovation, and investment incentives. The policy covers specialized fabrics designed for industrial applications, including agrotech, meditech, protech, and buildtech segments. It encourages domestic production, technological advancement, and export of high-value-added technical textiles.

Production-Linked Incentive Scheme in Textiles Products

In November 2020, the Union Cabinet approved the Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Textiles with the objective of boosting domestic manufacturing capabilities and promoting exports of textile products. The scheme has an approved outlay of ₹10,683 crore over a period of five years and is implemented by the Ministry of Textiles. It aims to incentivize production across forty product categories under man-made fibres (MMF), including fabrics, garments, and technical textiles. The scheme provides financial incentives linked to incremental sales of eligible products, thereby encouraging investment in technology, capacity expansion, and value-added textile manufacturing.

Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 2016

The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) Act, 2016 establishes the Bureau of Indian Standards as the National Standards Body of India, responsible for formulating and enforcing quality and safety standards across a wide range of goods, services, systems, and processes. The Act provides for both voluntary and mandatory certification schemes, including the BIS hallmark for precious metals and the ISI mark for industrial and consumer products. It empowers the Bureau to issue quality control orders, conduct inspections, and take enforcement actions against non-compliance. The Act aims to ensure consumer safety, improve product quality, support industrial growth, and enhance the competitiveness of Indian goods in domestic and international markets. It applies to manufacturers, importers, and service providers whose products fall under BIS standards or mandatory certification schemes.

Consumer Protection Act, 2019

The Consumer Protection Act, 2019 strengthens consumer rights and remedies by replacing the earlier 1986 Act and expanding its scope. It safeguards consumers against defective goods, deficient services, unfair trade practices, false or misleading advertisements, and online frauds. The Act introduces a Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) with powers to investigate complaints, order recalls, impose penalties, and regulate misleading advertisements. It also provides for e-filing of complaints, mediation cells, and product liability provisions, holding manufacturers, service providers, and sellers accountable for harm caused by their products or services. The Act applies to all businesses—offline and online—that sell goods or services directly or indirectly to consumers, ensuring transparency, accountability, and quick redressal of grievances.

Legal Metrology Act, 2009

The Legal Metrology Act, 2009 came into effect on January 14, 2010 and has repealed and replaced the Standard of Weights and Measures Act, 1976 and the Standards of weights and Measures (Enforcement) Act, 1985. The Legal Metrology Act seeks to establish and enforce standards of weights and measures, regulate trade and commerce in weights, measures and other goods which are sold or distributed by weight, measure or number and for matters incidental thereto. The Legal Metrology Act, inter alia, provides for: (a) approval of model of weight or measure; (b) verification of prescribed weight or measure by Government approved Test Centre; (c) exempting regulation of weight or measure or other goods meant for export; (d) nomination of a Director by a company who will be responsible for complying with the provisions of the enactment; (e) empowering the Central Government to make rules for enforcing the provisions of the enactment; and (f) penalty for offences and compounding of offences.

Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006 (MSMED Act)

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006 was enacted to promote, facilitate, and develop the competitiveness of micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs) in India. It provides a legal framework for classification of enterprises based on investment in plant, machinery, or equipment and turnover, helping determine eligibility for government benefits, subsidies, and support programs.

The Act mandates that buyers of goods or services from MSMEs make payments within 45 days from the date of acceptance or deemed acceptance. In case of delayed payments, the buyer is liable to pay compound interest at three times the RBI bank rate, providing strong protection to MSMEs against delayed receivables.

The Act also provides for the establishment of the Micro and Small Enterprises Facilitation Council (MSEFC) in each state to resolve disputes relating to delayed payments through conciliation and arbitration. Awards passed by the MSEFC are enforceable as decrees of a civil court.

Additionally, the Act enables the Government to announce schemes for the promotion, development, and competitiveness of MSMEs, including credit facilities, technology upgradation, infrastructure support, skill development, and cluster-based development programs. It also empowers the Government to periodically review and revise the criteria for MSME classification to reflect economic conditions.

Overall, the MSMED Act, 2006 enhances the ease of doing business for small enterprises, protects them from unfair payment practices, and facilitates their participation in government procurement and incentive schemes.

The Boilers Act, 1923

"The Boilers Act, 1923" is an Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to steam boilers. The Act regulates the use of boilers in order to ensure the safety of human life and property. It provides for the registration of boilers, inspection by authorized inspectors, issuance of certificates for use, and stipulates penalties for operation of unregistered or unsafe boilers. (Section 2(b) of Boilers Act, 1923 defines a "boiler" as a closed vessel in which water is heated, steam is generated or super-heated under pressure). The Boilers Act, 1923 repealed and replaced the Indian Boilers Act, 1868.

Environment Protection Laws

The Environment (Protection) Act, 1986 and Environment (Protection) Rules, 1986

The Environment (Protection) Act, 1986 is an umbrella legislation enacted to provide a framework for protecting and improving the environment in India. It empowers the central government to set environmental quality standards, regulate industrial emissions and discharges, and impose restrictions on activities that may harm the environment. The accompanying Environment (Protection) Rules, 1986 prescribe detailed standards for air, water, and soil quality, waste disposal methods, and permissible emission or discharge levels for various industries. This Act grants authorities the power to issue directions, close polluting units, and impose penalties for non-compliance. It applies broadly to all industries and operations with potential environmental impact.

National Environmental Policy, 2006

The National Environmental Policy (NEP), 2006 is a strategic policy document aimed at guiding sustainable development in India. It emphasizes the integration of environmental protection into economic and social policies, conservation of natural resources, pollution control, and promotion of environmental awareness. While it is not a law in itself, NEP 2006 serves as a framework for the formulation of environmental regulations and sectoral action plans, encouraging businesses and government agencies to adopt cleaner technologies, minimize resource use, and ensure inter-generational equity.

Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981

The Air Act, 1981 regulates and controls air pollution in India by establishing standards for emissions from industrial plants, vehicles, and other sources. It led to the creation of Central and State Pollution Control Boards (CPCB and SPCBs) responsible for monitoring air quality and issuing consent to establish and operate industrial units. The Act empowers authorities to take preventive and corrective measures, including the suspension of operations in case of violations. Industries emitting pollutants are required to install pollution control equipment and comply with emission norms to protect public health and the environment.

Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974

The Water Act, 1974 aims to prevent and control water pollution while maintaining or restoring the wholesomeness of water bodies. It also established CPCB and SPCBs to set standards for wastewater discharge, monitor effluents, and grant consent for industrial and municipal operations. Industries are required to treat wastewater before discharging it into rivers, lakes, or sewers, and failure to comply may result in penalties or closure. The Act ensures that industrial and domestic activities do not compromise the quality of India's surface and groundwater resources.

Noise Pollution (Regulation and Control) Rules, 2000

These Rules, framed under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, aim to regulate and control noise levels to protect public health and the environment. They prescribe ambient noise standards for industrial, commercial, residential, and silence zones, defining silence zones as 100-meter areas around schools, hospitals, courts, and religious places with stricter limits. The Rules restrict the use of loudspeakers, public address systems, and firecrackers between 10 PM and 6 AM except with special permissions. State governments and pollution control boards are empowered to monitor compliance, enforce standards, and seize equipment causing excessive noise. Non-compliance attracts penalties under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986. These provisions apply to individuals, institutions, industries, and event organizers responsible for noise sources.

Hazardous and Other Wastes (Management and Trans-boundary Movement) Rules, 2016

These Rules, notified under the Environment Protection Act, regulate the generation, storage, transport, treatment, and disposal of hazardous and other wastes, including waste imported into or exported out of India. They define hazardous waste categories, establish guidelines for safe handling, and mandate authorization from SPCBs for facilities handling such waste. The Rules encourage reuse, recycling, and recovery while ensuring that hazardous waste is managed in an environmentally sound manner to avoid soil, air, or water contamination. They also govern the trans-boundary movement of hazardous waste in compliance with the Basel Convention to prevent illegal dumping of toxic substances.

Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016

The Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016, notified under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986, were introduced to regulate the manufacture, sale, usage, and disposal of plastic to reduce environmental pollution. These rules apply to plastic manufacturers, producers, brand owners, retailers, street vendors, and consumers.

The Rules mandate segregation, collection, and proper disposal of plastic waste through extended producer responsibility (EPR), which requires producers, importers, and brand owners to take back the plastic waste generated from their products and ensure its recycling or safe disposal. They ban the use of plastic carry bags below 50 microns in thickness, as thinner bags are difficult to collect and recycle.

Local bodies and Gram Panchayats are required to set up collection, segregation, and waste processing systems, while waste generators must ensure segregation of plastic at source. Retailers and street vendors are prohibited from providing plastic carry bags free of cost, encouraging the shift to reusable alternatives.

The Rules were later amended in 2018, 2021, and 2022 to introduce phased bans on single-use plastic items, mandatory EPR registration through a centralized portal, and stricter compliance monitoring to promote a circular economy.

In essence, these rules seek to minimize plastic pollution, encourage recycling, and promote environmentally sustainable alternatives while holding producers and users accountable for plastic waste management.

Employment & Labour Laws

Factories Act, 1948

The Factories Act regulates the working conditions in factories to ensure the health, safety, welfare, and productivity of workers. It lays down requirements for proper ventilation, lighting, sanitation, and drinking water, and mandates safety measures such as protective equipment, fencing of machinery, and periodic maintenance. It prescribes working hours, limits on overtime, and provisions for leave, especially for women and young workers. The Act requires the appointment of welfare officers and safety committees in large factories and obliges factory owners to report accidents and occupational diseases to relevant authorities.

Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013

The Act protects women from sexual harassment at the workplace and ensures safe working environments. It mandates every employer to establish an Internal Complaints Committee (ICC), conduct awareness programs, and implement strict policies to prevent harassment. It defines sexual harassment broadly, covering physical, verbal, and non-verbal conduct of a sexual nature. Non-compliance can lead to penalties, license cancellation, or reputational damage to the employer.

Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986

The Act prohibits the employment of children below 14 years in hazardous industries and regulates working conditions in non-hazardous occupations, including limits on working hours, provisions for rest, and basic amenities. Amendments have aligned this Act with the Right to Education Act, making all forms of child labour in formal employment illegal while allowing children to assist in family enterprises under strict conditions.

Payment of Wages Act, 1936

This Act ensures that employees receive timely payment of wages without unauthorized deductions. It sets a wage disbursement period and restricts deductions except those permitted by law, such as for provident fund contributions, fines, or taxes.

Minimum Wages Act, 1948

The Act empowers central and state governments to fix and revise minimum wage rates for various industries and scheduled employments, protecting workers from exploitation and ensuring a basic standard of living. Employers must pay wages not less than the minimum rates, regardless of financial condition.

Payment of Bonus Act, 1965

This Act requires certain establishments to pay annual bonuses to eligible employees based on profits or productivity. It specifies minimum and maximum bonus percentages and establishes mechanisms for dispute resolution related to bonus claims.

Equal Remuneration Act, 1976

This law prohibits discrimination in wage payments on the basis of gender and mandates equal pay for equal work for men and women. It also prevents discrimination in recruitment, promotions, and training opportunities.

Industrial Disputes Act, 1947

This Act provides a legal framework for the investigation and settlement of disputes between employers and workers through conciliation, arbitration, and adjudication. It regulates strikes, lockouts, layoffs, and retrenchment, ensuring industrial harmony and fair treatment of workers.

Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946

This Act requires industrial establishments to formally define employment conditions such as classification of workers, hours of work, leave policies, termination procedures, and misconduct rules, ensuring transparency and fairness for both employers and employees.

Employee's Compensation Act, 1923

This law provides for financial compensation to employees or their families for death, permanent disability, or injuries sustained in the course of employment. Compensation is based on the worker's wages and the nature of the injury.

Employee's State Insurance Act, 1948

The Act establishes a comprehensive social insurance scheme for workers, offering medical care, sickness benefits, maternity leave, and compensation for work-related injuries through contributions from employers and employees.

Employee's Provident Fund and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952

This Act mandates employers to contribute to provident funds, pensions, and insurance schemes, providing long-term savings and retirement benefits to employees. Enforcement is through the Employees' Provident Fund Organization (EPFO).

Maternity Benefit Act, 1961

This Act provides for paid maternity leave to female employees, along with medical bonuses and protection against dismissal during maternity leave. Amendments have increased leave entitlements and extended coverage to adoptive and commissioning mothers.

Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972

This Act requires employers to pay a lump-sum gratuity to employees as a retirement benefit or upon termination after completing at least five years of continuous service. Gratuity is calculated based on last drawn salary and tenure.

Public Liability Insurance Act, 1991 and Rules, 1991

This law mandates industries handling hazardous substances to maintain insurance policies to provide immediate relief to individuals affected by accidents involving hazardous materials, ensuring quick compensation without lengthy litigation.

Employees' Deposit Linked Insurance Scheme, 1976

This scheme, under the EPF framework, provides life insurance coverage to employees, with benefits linked to their provident fund contributions and payable to their nominees in case of death.

Employees' Pension Scheme, 1995

This scheme offers pension benefits to employees upon retirement, permanent disability, or to dependents in the event of death, providing a steady post-employment income.

State-specific Laws

Stamp Acts (Indian Stamp Act, 1899 and State Stamp Laws)

The Indian Stamp Act, 1899, along with corresponding state-specific Stamp Acts, regulates the imposition of stamp duty on legal, commercial, and financial documents to make them valid and legally enforceable. Stamp duty is payable on instruments such as agreements, deeds of transfer, conveyances, leases, share certificates, debentures, and loan instruments. The duty rate varies depending on the nature of the document and the state in which it is executed, since states have the power to amend or supplement the central law. Proper stamping is critical because unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents are inadmissible as evidence in court unless the deficiency is rectified with penalty. The law also empowers authorities to inspect documents, levy penalties for evasion, and prescribe procedures for adjudication of stamp duty disputes.

Professions, Trade, Callings and Employments Act (Professional Tax)

The Professions, Trades, Callings, and Employments Acts, enacted by individual states, provide for the levy and collection of professional tax on individuals engaged in any profession, trade, calling, or employment. This tax is applicable to salaried employees, self-employed individuals, professionals (such as doctors, lawyers, chartered accountants), and business owners. Employers are required to deduct professional tax from salaries and remit it to the state government, while self-employed persons must pay directly. The maximum tax amount is capped at ₹2,500 per annum as per Article 276 of the Constitution of India, though the slab rates vary by state. Failure to register, deduct, or pay professional tax attracts interest, penalties, and prosecution under the respective state law.

Electricity Act, 2003

The Electricity Act, 2003 consolidates and modernizes laws relating to the generation, transmission, distribution, trading, and use of electricity in India. The Act aims to promote competition in the power sector, protect consumer interests, and ensure the supply of electricity to all areas, including rural regions. It provides for the licensing of electricity businesses, the establishment of regulatory commissions at both central and state levels, and the introduction of open access for bulk consumers. The Act also lays down provisions for renewable energy promotion, measures to curb power theft, and mechanisms for tariff determination to balance economic viability with affordability.

Municipality Laws

Municipality laws are state-specific legislations that govern the establishment, powers, and functioning of urban local bodies such as municipal corporations, councils, and nagar panchayats. These laws regulate urban planning, construction approvals, sanitation, public health, water supply, waste management, property tax, and maintenance of civic infrastructure. They also ensure compliance with building codes, zoning regulations, and environmental norms to promote organized urban development. Non-compliance with municipality laws can result in penalties, demolition of unauthorized structures, or cancellation of business licenses.

Fire Prevention Laws

Fire prevention laws include national and state-level regulations designed to ensure fire safety in industrial, commercial, and residential establishments. These laws mandate compliance with building codes, installation of fire detection and suppression systems (such as sprinklers and extinguishers), provision of emergency exits, and regular safety audits. Typically, businesses must obtain a Fire NOC (No Objection Certificate) from the local fire department certifying that premises meet the prescribed safety norms. Such laws are critical to protect life, property, and business continuity by preventing fire-related hazards and ensuring emergency preparedness.

General Corporate

Companies Act, 2013

The Companies Act, 2013 governs the incorporation, management, and operation of companies in India. It consolidates and modernizes company law to ensure better corporate governance, accountability, and transparency. The Act prescribes requirements for formation of companies, maintenance of statutory records, filing of returns, appointment and duties of directors, shareholder rights, issue of securities, and auditing standards. It also provides for corporate social responsibility (CSR), class action suits, fraud prevention, and penalties for non-compliance. Regulatory oversight is exercised by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) and the Registrar of Companies (RoC).

Sale of Goods Act, 1930

The Sale of Goods Act, 1930 governs contracts for the sale and purchase of goods. It defines terms such as seller, buyer, delivery, price, and goods, and sets out conditions and warranties to ensure fairness in trade. The Act covers transfer of ownership, performance of the contract, remedies for breach, and rights of unpaid sellers. It protects buyers from defective goods and ensures that trade transactions follow consistent legal principles.

Registration Act, 1908

The Registration Act, 1908 provides for the registration of documents to ensure public notice and protect legal rights relating to immovable property, contracts, wills, and other legal instruments. Registration makes documents legally valid, admissible as evidence in court, and enforceable against third parties. The Act prescribes compulsory registration for deeds of sale, mortgages, leases exceeding a year, and property transfers. Sub-Registrars, under state governments, are authorized to register documents, collect stamp duty, and maintain public records.

Indian Contract Act, 1872

The Indian Contract Act, 1872 governs all contracts and agreements in India. It lays down the essentials of a valid contract such as free consent, lawful consideration, competence of parties, and enforceability by law. The Act defines different types of contracts (void, voidable, contingent) and specifies performance obligations, breach consequences, and remedies including damages and compensation. It forms the legal backbone of commercial and personal agreements.

Specific Relief Act, 1963

The Specific Relief Act, 1963 provides for specific performance of contracts, injunctions, and other equitable remedies. Instead of just monetary compensation, courts can direct a party to perform its contractual obligations, return property, or restrain wrongful acts. The Act is especially significant for contracts relating to immovable property, intellectual property, and unique goods, where monetary damages are inadequate. Amendments in 2018 made specific performance of contracts a rule rather than an exception.

Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881

The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 regulates promissory notes, bills of exchange, and cheques, which are widely used for commercial transactions. It defines their characteristics, transferability, and legal protections for holders in due course. The Act also lays down provisions for dishonour of cheques, penalties, and criminal liability for cheque bounce under Section 138. This law ensures trust and smooth functioning of financial instruments in commerce.

Taxation Related Laws

Income Tax Act, 1961

The Income Tax Act, 1961 is India's primary legislation governing the levy, computation, collection, and recovery of income tax on income earned by individuals, companies, firms, and other entities. It defines the scope of total income, various heads of income (such as salaries, business profits, capital gains, and income from other sources), and allowable deductions, exemptions, and rebates. The Act also specifies tax rates, advance tax provisions, Tax Deducted at Source (TDS), assessment procedures, penalties for non-compliance, and the powers of income tax authorities. The Act is updated annually through the Union Budget via the Finance Act to reflect changes in tax policy.

Central Goods and Services Tax (CGST) Act, 2017

The Central Goods and Services Tax (CGST) Act, 2017 forms the backbone of India's Goods and Services Tax (GST) regime. It provides for the levy and collection of GST on intra-state supplies of goods and services by the Central Government. The Act establishes a comprehensive framework for registration, classification, valuation, invoicing, input tax credit, filing of returns, audits, assessments, and enforcement actions. It also specifies penalties for non-compliance and mechanisms for dispute resolution. The CGST Act works alongside the State GST Acts and the Integrated GST (IGST) Act to ensure a unified indirect tax structure across India, replacing multiple cascading taxes like VAT, excise, and service tax.

Customs Act, 1962

The Customs Act, 1962 governs the import and export of goods in India and ensures proper levy and collection of customs duties. It lays down procedures for the clearance of goods through customs, including filing of bills of entry, shipping bills, and payment of duties. The Act provides for prohibitions and restrictions on import/export of specified goods, anti-smuggling measures, valuation of goods, warehousing provisions, and adjudication of disputes. It also empowers customs officers to conduct inspections, seizures, and arrests in cases of violations. The Customs Act plays a critical role in safeguarding India's economic interests, regulating foreign trade, and ensuring compliance with international trade obligations.

Labour Codes (Applicable But Not Yet Notified)

Code on Wages, 2019

The Code on Wages, 2019 consolidates and simplifies India's wage and remuneration laws by subsuming the Payment of Wages Act, 1936; the Minimum Wages Act, 1948; the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965; and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976. The Code establishes a uniform definition of wages and provides a single framework for regulating minimum wages, payment of wages, timely payment of salaries, and bonus entitlements for employees across both organized and unorganized sectors. It empowers the central and state governments to fix floor wages, mandates equal pay for equal work irrespective of gender, and prescribes penalties for delayed or unlawful deductions from wages.

Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2019

The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions (OSHC) Code, 2019 consolidates and rationalizes 13 existing laws relating to workplace safety, health standards, and working conditions. It seeks to ensure safe, healthy, and humane working environments for employees in factories, mines, docks, plantations, and other establishments. The Code specifies employer obligations regarding health checkups, working hours, leave policies, and safety equipment. It also provides for licensing of contractors, mandatory registration of establishments, and better protection for inter-state migrant workers. By streamlining regulatory compliance, the Code aims to improve employee welfare and productivity while reducing overlapping provisions.

Industrial Relations Code, 2020

The Industrial Relations Code, 2020 integrates and replaces three key laws — the Trade Unions Act, 1926; the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946; and the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Code seeks to promote harmony between employers and workers by providing a clear legal framework for collective bargaining, resolution of industrial disputes, and conditions for strikes and lockouts. It introduces provisions for fixed-term employment, reduces the threshold for standing orders, and requires industrial establishments above a specified size to seek government approval before lay-offs, retrenchments, or closures. The Code also encourages dispute resolution through conciliation and arbitration to maintain industrial peace.

Code on Social Security, 2020

The Code on Social Security, 2020 consolidates nine central labour laws relating to social security, such as the Employees' Provident Fund Act, Employees' State Insurance Act, and the Payment of Gratuity Act. It aims to extend social security benefits, including provident fund, insurance, maternity benefits, gratuity, and pension, to all employees and workers, including those in the unorganized and gig economy sectors. The Code mandates the creation of social security funds and allows aggregation of contributions from multiple sources. It also streamlines registration processes and compliance for employers while safeguarding employee welfare through broader coverage and digitized systems.

Foreign Investment Laws

Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992

The Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 (FTDR Act) provides the legal framework for regulating and promoting foreign trade in India. It empowers the Central Government to make policies for facilitating imports and increasing exports to ensure balanced trade and economic growth. The Act authorizes the government to issue or regulate Importer-Exporter Codes (IECs), impose restrictions or prohibitions on trade of certain goods, and enforce compliance with trade regulations. It also enables the government to take corrective action against unfair trade practices, protect domestic industries, and maintain foreign exchange reserves.

Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) and Rules

The Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 (FEMA) replaces the earlier Foreign Exchange Regulation Act (FERA) to provide a liberalized and transparent framework for managing foreign exchange in India. FEMA facilitates external trade, cross-border payments, and orderly development of the foreign exchange market. It regulates current account and capital account transactions, overseas investments, foreign borrowings, and remittances by individuals and corporates. The Act empowers the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to issue rules, directions, and approvals, while violations are treated as civil offenses rather than criminal acts, fostering a more business-friendly environment.

Conservation of Foreign Exchange and Prevention of Smuggling Activities Act, 1974 (COFEPOSA)

The COFEPOSA Act, 1974 is aimed at conserving foreign exchange and preventing smuggling activities that adversely affect India's economy. The Act authorizes preventive detention of individuals suspected of engaging in smuggling or activities that could deplete foreign exchange reserves. While FEMA handles foreign exchange regulation through civil mechanisms, COFEPOSA provides a deterrent for serious economic offenses by allowing the government to detain offenders without trial for a limited period to safeguard national economic interests.

Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) Policies

India's Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) policies are framed by the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) under the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, in consultation with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). These policies determine the sectors in which foreign investment is permitted, under either the automatic route (no prior government approval required) or the government route (approval required). FDI policies also prescribe sectoral caps, entry conditions, and compliance requirements to ensure that foreign investments align with India's economic and security interests while promoting technology transfer, employment generation, and overall economic growth.

Intellectual Property Laws

Information Technology Act, 2000 (IT Act)

The Information Technology Act, 2000 provides a legal framework for electronic governance, digital signatures, and online transactions in India. It recognizes electronic records and digital signatures as legally valid, facilitating paperless communication and e-commerce. The Act prescribes penalties for unauthorized access, hacking, data theft, identity theft, and cyber fraud. It also empowers the government to regulate intermediaries, issue directions for blocking websites, and ensure cybersecurity. Amendments, including the IT (Amendment) Act, 2008, further strengthened provisions against cybercrime and introduced liability for intermediaries to maintain due diligence in preventing illegal content dissemination.

Indian Patents Act, 1970

The Patents Act, 1970 governs the granting of patents for inventions in India. It protects new and useful inventions by giving inventors exclusive rights to make, use, and sell their inventions for a specific period (currently 20 years from the filing date). The Act specifies criteria for patentability — novelty, inventive step, and industrial applicability — and excludes certain inventions (like atomic energy, traditional knowledge, or methods of agriculture). The Act also balances patent protection with public interest by incorporating provisions for compulsory licensing to ensure access to essential goods such as medicines during public health crises. Amendments aligned the Act with TRIPS (Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights) standards, making India's patent regime globally compliant.

Trademarks Act, 1999

The Trade Marks Act, 1999 regulates the registration, protection, and enforcement of trademarks in India. A trademark is any sign, logo, brand name, word, phrase, or symbol that distinguishes goods or services of one entity from others. The Act provides exclusive rights to trademark owners to use and license their marks, preventing misuse or infringement by unauthorized parties. It also recognizes service marks, collective marks, and certification marks, expanding the scope beyond traditional goods. The Act established the Trademark Registry and provides remedies for infringement through civil and criminal actions, including injunctions, damages, and penalties. Amendments have introduced online filing and simplified procedures to encourage IP protection.

Business Overview

Founded in 1997 by Mr. Arun Gupta along with Mr. Rajesh Gupta, Mr. Ravi Gupta and Mr. Vishnu Gupta, the Company began commercial operations in 2013 (blankets), then broadened into fabrics and select technical textiles from 2021. It has since transitioned from limited processing to a fully integrated yarn-to-cloth model housed at Ludhiana, enabling in-house knitting, dyeing, printing and finishing with shorter lead times and tighter quality control. The Company was converted into a public limited company in January 2025; the present promoters are Mr. Arun Gupta, Mr. Piyush Gupta and Mr. Chirag Gupta.

To support this shift to end-to-end manufacturing, the Company undertook a structured capex program starting 2022—adding modern, high-throughput equipment (e.g., PLC-controlled multi-chamber thermal-oil systems, dyeing units, brushing, embossing/3D punching, bonding, shearing and printing), along with imported machinery that now underpins the integrated plant. Installed capacity scaled to ~75,00,000 KGs by FY25 (from ~37,50,000 KGs in FY24), with utilisation reflecting the step-up in capacity and evolving product

What we make. The portfolio spans blankets, knitted fabrics (winterwear and multi-season), sherpa/raised fabrics and select garments. FY25 revenue was primarily from knitted cloth (~85%), with additional contributions from garments (~6%), job work (~4%) and blankets (~3%). Sales were predominantly domestic.

How we operate. The Company follows an order-based, demand-driven model—production commences on confirmed orders—minimizing inventory, aligning procurement with sales, and improving working-capital discipline. Integrated manufacturing and a clustered supplier base in Ludhiana enable shorter lead times and cost efficiency. The model is B2B-led with repeat institutional/wholesale demand. Top-10 customer concentration reduced to ~34% in FY25 (from ~41% in FY24), reflecting a broadening base.

Capacity and utilisation. Capacity has scaled materially in recent years to 75,00,000 KGs (FY25). Utilisation moderated to ~65% in FY25 (vs. ~80% in FY24) due to step-up in installed capacity and product mix.

Competitive position—key strengths.

- Vertically integrated plant with modern machinery enabling quality, scale and customization.
- Strategic cluster location (Ludhiana) for raw-material access, skilled labour and logistics.
- Order-based production model that supports cash-flow discipline.
- Experienced promoter group and trained operating teams.

Growth strategy.

- Technical textiles: invest in specialized processing to serve higher-margin industrial uses (auto, construction, home improvement, healthcare).
- Market expansion: deepen domestic distribution; revive exports through compliance readiness and service levels.
- Working-capital optimisation: leverage early-payment discounts on yarn and tighten cash-conversion cycle.

The facility operates with sanctioned power load and thermal systems (boilers/thermopac) and recycles treated water from the ETP for select uses and vegetation, reducing freshwater draw.

This overview should be read in conjunction with the detailed sections titled 'Risk Factors' see page 26, 'Financial Information' see page 190, and 'Business' see page 130 of this Updated Draft Red Herring Prospectus, for a full understanding of the context, and in particular, the sensitivities relating to forward-looking statements

Particulars	FY 2025 vs FY 2024	FY 2024 vs FY 2023
Revenue from Operations	Revenue from operations increased by 58.38%, from ₹10,838.45 lakhs in FY 2024 to ₹17,163.50 lakhs in FY 2025. Reason for increase in Revenue in FY 25 as compared to FY 24 End-to-End Manufacturing Integration In FY 2024-25, the company transitioned to a fully integrated yarn-to-cloth manufacturing model. Previously, value addition was limited to minor cloth processing. With end-to-end manufacturing, the company now oversees the complete value addition cycle, from yarn to finished cloth that enhancing product quality, expanding its product portfolio, and improving margins. To support higher production volumes and achieve economies of scale, we undertook a significant capacity expansion through targeted capital expenditures of ₹1,342 lakhs, including ₹627 lakhs in Capital Work in Progress of FY 24. As a result, annual installed capacity doubled from 37.5 lakh KGS in FY 2023-24 to 75 lakh KGS in FY 2024-25. Capacity utilization in FY 2024-25 stood at 64.5%, compared to 80.2% in the previous year, reflecting the ramp-up of new capacity. This expansion enabled a strategic focus on value-added, high-margin product, including knitted Fabric, which now constitute a larger portion of our sales mix. The table below summarizes our capital expenditure (Capex) over the past years <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Financial Year</th> <th>Annual Installed Capacity in KGS</th> <th>Annual Utilised Capacity in KGS</th> <th>Capacity (%)</th> <th>Capex during the year in INR</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>2023-2024</td> <td>37,50,000</td> <td>30,07,564</td> <td>80.2</td> <td>3,05,06,419</td> </tr> <tr> <td>2024-2025</td> <td>75,00,000</td> <td>48,38,190</td> <td>64.5</td> <td>10,81,20,840</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> The capacity utilization is based on the certificate issued by a Chartered Engineer, dated July 21, 2025	Financial Year	Annual Installed Capacity in KGS	Annual Utilised Capacity in KGS	Capacity (%)	Capex during the year in INR	2023-2024	37,50,000	30,07,564	80.2	3,05,06,419	2024-2025	75,00,000	48,38,190	64.5	10,81,20,840	Revenue from operations increased by 21.33%, from ₹8,932.70 lakhs in FY 2023 to ₹10,838.45 lakhs in FY 2024. Reason for increase in Revenue in FY 24 as compared to FY 23 Shifting Towards End-to-End Manufacturing The company is in the process of integrating end-to-end manufacturing, a strategy aimed at capturing higher value and enhancing operational efficiency. During the initial phase, growth was primarily driven by increased market demand for fabrics. At this stage, the company was still developing its fully integrated capabilities and primarily engaged in the production of semi-processed fabrics. Despite operating with a partially integrated setup, the company successfully leveraged market opportunities, scaled up sales volumes, and achieved a healthy year-over-year increase in revenue. This strategic shift was supported by an increase in annual installed capacity from 24 lakh KGS in FY 2022-23 to 37.5 lakh KGS in FY 2023-24, with capacity utilization rising to 80.2%.
